Cyber Security Awareness Month: Free Resources for Your Business

Strengthen your human firewall this Awareness Month

Cyber Security Awareness Month is the perfect time to reinforce your organisation's most important line of defence – your people. Whether you manage internal teams or support multiple clients, now is your opportunity to promote smarter habits, raise awareness, and reduce everyday cyber risks.

At usecure, we're helping businesses and MSPs do their part with free, ready-to-use resources designed to make education simple and impactful.

What's Inside Your Free Resource Pack

1. Awareness Posters & Videos

Engaging, ready-to-share visuals and short explainer clips that drive awareness across phishing, password safety, data handling, and remote working.

2. Editable Security Policies

Download customisable, white-labelled templates for essential workplace policies including Acceptable Use, Remote Work, Password Management, and more.

3. Phishing Simulation Access

Run a free phishing campaign to test staff awareness. Use pre-built templates or create your own to uncover vulnerabilities and drive meaningful discussions.

4. Free 14-Day Platform Trial

Get hands-on access to the usecure platform – including automated training, phishing simulations, dark web monitoring, and policy management tools.

For Partners and MSPs

Help your clients reduce risk and build cyber resilience with your own branded campaigns. Access free NFR licences and white-labelled marketing materials to promote awareness across your client base.

Why Human Risk Still Matters

Technology alone can't prevent every breach. Human behaviour remains the biggest vulnerability – but also the greatest opportunity for change. By empowering employees through regular awareness and positive reinforcement, you can create a stronger, more secure culture from the inside out.
