The proper mountaineers always hold their source of strength in high regard. You can also pay tribute to the Ore Mountains, especially if you decide to acquire one of the mountain apartments in the Slovanka residential project – perhaps Blatenský vrch. The summit of the mountain itself is adorned with an original lookout tower from 1913, which has been preserved to this day thanks to the diligent care of members of the Czech Union for Nature Conservation. You can reach it, for example, from Horní Blatná along an educational trail leading past Vlčí jam, and you will not regret it – exploring the surroundings of your home is worth it.

- Currently, the layout of the residential space is being adjusted by the Ivanka Kowalski studio for maximum utilization. The floor plan of the apartment unit will be available by January 2024.
- During Q1/2024, it is still possible to incorporate client modifications according to their requirements for the layout of the apartment unit.

The sale of mountain apartments is managed by the RWProjekt company.
