We've started a mission to help people overcome digital addiction, rebuild relationships, and embrace healthy tech.

We believe technology is a gift... an incredibly powerful one.

Technology has the potential to bring us together, keep us connected, and free up space, so we can deepen relationships and invest in people. But, for many of us, this power has been hijacked by algorithms and constant notifications.

The reason is simple: Big Tech was built on the attention economy—a vast system where companies profit at our expense. The convenience promised by smartphones came at a significant, hidden cost. And it's a cost that's much higher than we thought it would be.

That's why we are on a mission to redefine consumer expectations for technology. We believe there is a better way, and it starts with Healthy Technology.

Our Healthy Tech is designed to respect well-being and put people first.

What Makes a Wisephone Different?

Wisephone is the only Android minimalist smartphone with built-in safety features that also include access to more than 1,000 approved apps. We're the perfect middle ground between a full-access smartphone and a completely stripped-down "dumb" phone.

Why Was Wisephone Created?

Techless Founder, Chris Kaspar, saw firsthand the damage unfiltered technology could do to children when he fostered two teenage girls who were engaged in unhealthy technology use. He watched the girls wrestle with screen addiction and exposure to things no child should ever see. When he searched for a viable solution and couldn't find one, he decided to invent one himself.

Do Customers Have to Switch to the Wisephone Service Plan?

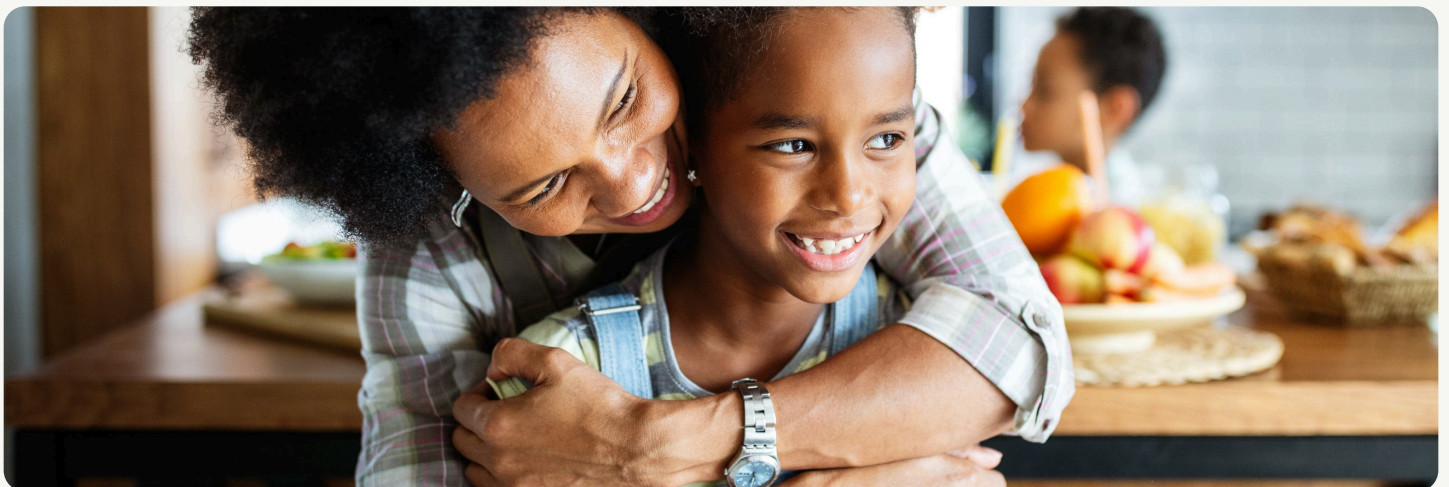

No. Customers can bring their current phone plan or select one of our phone plans, which include access to all the data and features. However, they do need a WiseOS subscription, which supports the entire distraction-resistant ecosystem behind Wisephone. That includes ongoing app vetting, WiseOS maintenance, family controls, security updates, loophole prevention, and curated app management.

Do Customers Have to Sign a Contract?

No. Service plans are month-to-month and do not require a long-term contract.

What is the Technology Behind Wisephone?

WiseOS is our proprietary safety operating software.

What Our Customers Say

“My focus came back, the workdays became calmer, and I stopped reaching for my phone every five minutes. Then, when the workday is done, I’m actually present with my family. Sometimes the problem isn’t discipline. It’s the device. Amazing what happens when your phone stops competing for your attention.”

“I actually became less dependent on my phone and it caused me to connect with others more!”

“After one week with our Wisephones, we would say that the phones have absolutely accomplished their purpose. We have been less glued to a screen, more productive, and more present with our children.”

“Awesome experience. My time on a smartphone has been drastically reduced. And the Techless team responded to my inquiries about getting a certain app to work, and within a few weeks they had it done! Very grateful for what you're doing. The phone does what it's supposed to do - it keeps me off the phone! There's nothing to do on it, and that's the point. It's a tool, not a time sucker.”

Let's create more connections.
