

1gbillion

Pop Duo from Australia

Genre busting music.

Combining the raw talents of Hungarian born Gergely Poloskei and Italian descendant Gerardo Penna. "18billion" is a genre busting Pop music duo where every song is unique, masterfully crafted and begs for repeat listening.

Gergely, known as mikrucio; is a multi-instrumentalist, a professional multi-genre music producer, songwriter and engineer. While Gerardo brings flamboyant Rap and Pop vocals to the team.

"I wanted to create something modern, but also retain musicality.
something that modern music has lost" mikrucio.

18billion uses fat bass leads, synths, real instruments, Rapping and Singing from both mikrucio and Gerardo to create dynamic music, telling real stories.

We tackle topics such as:

Spousal abuse. "You Put My Lovin' In The Bin"

No foreplay, just sex. "Pohno"

Gold digging women. "Hyper-Parasite"

Walking our own path.

We don't fit any molds. This is by design, total originality is our weapon.
"Create art, not music". This is our moto. While the music is strong, not being a cookie cutter artist does come with its own perils.

Releases & Feedback.

“You Put My Lovin’ In The Bin” (link)

Is marked by its 90's style hip-hop beat. But quickly showcases our style and swagger.

"The track follows a transformative journey from the shadows of a toxic relationship into the light of self-liberation. It begins with the raw, melancholic weight of heartbreak, but ultimately crescendos into a defiant celebration of survival.

It's a testament to the fact that sometimes, the best thing a partner can do is leave you"

Broken8 music blog described it so:

“18billion may have just exported the most exciting new sound for the year”

“Pohnno” (link)

Second release for the year, “Pohnno” is a made up word.

Starting with a classic Organ which quickly develops into a velvety smooth beat showing yet again just how versatile and original we are.

"This track captures the universal tension between physical desire and emotional intimacy. It tells the story of two partners on different wavelengths after a long day: one seeking a mechanical, stress-relieving release, and the other yearning for the connection of foreplay. It's a candid look at the 'intimacy gap' that can develop in modern relationships when two people lose sight of each other's needs."

“Hyper Parasite” (link).

Raw, edgy, bouncy and it's over before you know it, “That girl's, a Hyper-Parasite”.

"This track dives into the world of a woman who has mastered the art of leverage. It's a bold, unapologetic look at a character who uses her influence and looks to navigate high society, turning charm into currency.

It explores the power dynamics of attraction and the high price of luxury, painting a portrait of a woman who is always two steps ahead of those she keeps in her orbit."

18billion at its best, this unapologetic song marks our third high quality release for the year. the soaring synthesizers mark the womens ego mixed with an almost chromatic bass line.

You wont forget this song in a hurry.

“General feedback from promoters has been uniform across the board. Promoters love our songs, but don't know what to do with them...”
