Name

Bryn Auger

Year of Call

2023

Areas of Law

Civil Litigation, Personal Injury, Clinical Negligence, Employment Law, Police Law, Inquests and Inquiries, Public Law

Overview

Bryn joined Chambers in October 2026 following the successful completion of his pupillage. He was supervised by Shannon Eastwood and Yaqub Rahman.

Bryn practises in civil litigation. He has a busy court practice and appears regularly across the country for both Claimants and Defendants. His practice includes a wide variety of civil applications, personal injury claims, and road traffic litigation. His experience includes OIC claims, stage 3 quantum hearings, credit hire, and hearings on both the small claims track and fast track. Bryn is also instructed regularly by police forces on police law applications including SHPOs, SROs, SPOs, and other related civil applications.

Bryn has a flourishing paper practice which includes advices on liability, quantum, tactics, and procedure across a wide variety of civil litigation including personal injury claims, employer's liability, public liability, and civil liberties.

Education

- Bachelor of Laws in Law with Placement Year – Aston University
- Post Graduate Diploma in Bar Practice – The University of Law, Birmingham
- Master of Laws in Bar Practice – The University of Law, Birmingham

Further Information

Bryn has a particular interest in developing a clinical negligence and inquest practice. Prior to pupillage, Bryn worked as an assistant in a leading claimant clinical negligence team in Shropshire. Cases he worked on included birth and brain injuries, oncology, fatal claims, and orthopaedic injuries. He also previously worked for a well-known medico-legal technology company.