

Values that Lead and Guide

Our value system guides us from the project initiation and implementation to the aftercare for our customers. This results in products according to your individual requirements.

Relying on each other

Commitment

» For us, statements and promises are basic requirements for a reliable, open and trustworthy communication and cooperation with our business partners. Our team and every single member takes responsibility for their part and acts reliable. «

Accepting and grasping challenges

Understanding

» Mature, specialized and sustainable solutions are based on the profound experience of our strong engineering team and are achieved through detailed identification of our customer's requirements and the specific process environment. «

Long-term thinking

Sustainability

» Developing long-term consistent and value added solutions is our ambition. All decisions, the selection of business partners as well as the specific product configuration therefore are always based in consideration of their future impacts. «

Continuously optimizing and adapting

Flexibility

» Our processes are tailored to product and customer-specific requirements. Together with our quick decision-making, they form the indispensable basis for us to be able to react flexibly to changing conditions. «

Outstanding performance

METAX - that's what we stand for

METAX was founded in 1985 and is a family-owned company.

High technical competence and many years of experience with a strong team of engineers make us a recognized technology partner. We are focused on sealing rotating equipment of machines in the field of plant engineering and process technology.

This specialization enables us to provide competent advice to our customers from various industries.

Our main products are application-specific types of mechanical seals and associated supply systems. Other sealing technologies complete our product portfolio.

Due to our in-house production and warehouse on site, we achieve a high level of quality and service.
