

The Leadership Accelerator

Five days to reset how you lead

Who this is for

This programme is for senior technical leaders, leaders of leaders, aspiring executives, and new executives who are already doing well, but want leadership to feel clearer, more effective, and more sustainable.

You may be:

- Stepping into greater responsibility and wanting leadership capability to keep pace
- Carrying too much of the decision making and problem solving yourself
- Leading capable people, but wanting more initiative, ownership, and alignment across the team
- Wanting to progress without feeling like you need to become someone else to do it well

This is not remedial leadership training.

It is development for leaders with influence, judgement, and responsibility.

What the week gives you

The Leadership Accelerator is a five day, in person leadership intensive designed to build leadership know how, not just knowledge. Across the week, you will:

- Deepen your understanding of how you lead under pressure and what helps you be effective
- Learn how to create clarity and alignment without micromanaging or pushing
- Build capability in others so the team can carry more without constant oversight
- Strengthen your ability to address performance issues while maintaining trust
- Develop a leadership approach that is effective and sustainable, not performative

Everything is applied to everyday situations you are dealing with now.

There is time to think, reflect, and translate insight into action.

What you'll walk away with

You will leave with:

- Greater clarity and confidence in the people side of your role
- Practical tools you can use immediately
- A clearer sense of how to lead in a way that fits who you are
- A practical plan you can apply with your team

Most leaders describe feeling more at ease in their leadership, with fewer bottlenecks and clearer decision making.

The format

- Five consecutive days in Christchurch
- Small group to allow real conversation and application
- Calm, well designed environment
- No hype, no role play theatre, no abstract models
- Evidence informed, practical, and designed to suit technical leadership contexts

Optional leadership assessment available before the programme to deepen self-awareness and insight.

Next Step

If you want to explore whether this experience is right for you, book a short conversation. There is no obligation. The aim is simply to assess fit.
