Past performance is not an indication of future results. Actual results may be materially different from the results achieved historically. The above performance information is supplemental. Please see the GIPS Reports included in this fact sheet for complete performance, including net and benchmark descriptions. Fees are based on a client's volatility level, which can be customized to their preference. Net returns are calculated using implied management fees of 0.75% per annum and performance fees of 10% per annum, which are the highest fee level based on the highest volatility level. Please refer to the disclosures at the end of these materials for important additional information.

1. Track record for Currency Risk Management Overlay strategies prior to May 2004, the date that the Currency Risk Management team joined Mesirow, occurred at prior firms. Track record for Currency Alpha and Macro strategies prior to October 1, 2018, the date that the Currency Alpha and Macro Strategies team joined Mesirow, occurred at prior firms.

2. As of 6.30.2026. Currency assets under management includes AUM associated with (i) active and passive currency risk management products $241.61 billion, (ii) non-fx overlay strategies such as equitization and beta overlays $1.18 billion, and (iii) alpha strategies $1.84 billion. In all such cases, AUM is calculated based on notional value of currency investments. Additionally, AUM for alpha strategies is adjusted because clients can select a volatility target (generally between 2% and 12% annualized), which is normalized to 2% in order to create a consistent depiction of alpha strategy AUM. This results in a "scaled" AUM, which is higher than the actual aggregate notional value of all alpha strategy portfolios if clients have selected a volatility target higher than 2%. As of 6.30.2026, the "unscaled" AUM for alpha strategies was $429.21 million.

3. The GVI is an internal proprietary model utilizing one month at-the-money (ATM) volatility for G10 currencies, including crosses plus BIS liquidity report weightings.

4. Performance of the Extended Markets Currency Alpha Strategy prior to October 1, 2018, was attained at The Cambridge Strategy (TCS), an unaffiliated investment manager. On October 1, 2018, a MFIM affiliate completed the purchase of a significant portion of TCS' assets, including TCS' intellectual property and hired a majority of TCS employees. Past performance is not an indication of future results. Actual results may be materially different from the results achieved historically.

Notes on performance: The Extended Markets Currency Alpha Strategy commenced trading in April 2004 as a carve-out from an institutional account. From April 2004 through December 2010 performance is based on an equal-weighted composite of all accounts invested in the Extended Markets Currency Alpha Strategy; from January 2011 performance is based on the asset weighted performance of all accounts invested in that strategy. Fees are based on a client's volatility level, which can be customized to their preference. Net returns are calculated using implied management fees of 0.75% per annum and performance fees of 10% per annum, which are the highest fee level based on the highest volatility level. Performance fees are accrued daily, paid quarterly and a high water mark is employed. Performance is in USD and all returns and statistics are based on monthly returns. The composite includes all fee paying accounts, including both commingled and managed accounts, as well as accounts funded with Mesirow capital (which may be comingled with client assets). Currency trading may involve instruments that have volatile prices, are illiquid or create economic leverage. Emerging markets securities involve risks such as currency fluctuation and political and economic instability that could result in additional volatility. Unhedged short sales expose the strategy to additional liability. The strategies illustrated above include accounts containing both client and Firm capital. To the extent that any account contained both client and Firm capital, assets in such account were traded in an identical manner and thus the client and Firm have identical gross returns. All net returns shown above have been pro-forma adjusted to reflect the highest fees that clients could incur in connection with such strategies and trading, and thus actual performance results may have varied.

Past performance is not an indication of future results. Actual results may be materially different from the results achieved historically.

Certain strategies discussed throughout the document are based on proprietary models of MC's or its affiliates. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to those referenced.

Performance pertaining to the Currency Alpha and Macro strategies may be stated gross of fees or net of fees. Performance information that is provided net of fees reflects the deduction of implied management and performance fees. Performance information that is provided gross of fees does not reflect the deduction of advisory fees. Client returns will be reduced by such fees and other expenses that may be incurred in the management of the account. Advisory fees are described in Part II of Form ADV of Mesirow Financial Investment Management, Inc. For any performance information that is provided gross of fees, MFIM will provide performance results net of such fees upon request. Hypothetical model performance information and results do not reflect actual trading or asset or fund advisory management and the results may not reflect the impact that material economic and market factors may have had. Hypothetical performance results have many inherent limitations, some of which are described herein. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to those shown. In fact, there are frequently sharp differences between hypothetical performance results and the actual results subsequently achieved by any particular trading program. One of the limitations of hypothetical performance results is that they are generally prepared with the benefit of hindsight. In addition, hypothetical trading does not involve financial risk, and no hypothetical trading record can completely account for the impact of financial risk in actual trading. For example, the ability to withstand losses or adhere to a particular trading program in spite of trading losses are material points which can also adversely affect actual trading results. There are numerous other factors related to the markets in general or to the implementation of any specific trading program which cannot be fully accounted for in the preparation of hypothetical performance results and all of which can adversely affect actual trading results.

Comparisons to any indices referenced herein are for illustrative purposes only and are not meant to imply that a strategy's returns or volatility will be similar to the indices. The strategy is compared to the indices because they are widely used performance benchmarks.

Reporting Currency: USD | Description: Mesirow Currency Management's Extended Markets Currency Alpha composite is an absolute return strategy that aims to profit from short and medium term moves in global markets' currency pairs.

1. When the composite consists of five or fewer portfolios for the full year, no dispersion measure is presented.

2. This information is supplemental to the fully compliant report. Alpha product AUM reflects the client's total investment amount in the strategy and is calculated based on an annualized 2% volatility target.

3. Track record for the Extended Markets Currency Alpha composite prior to October 1, 2018 occurred at a prior firm.

Mesirow Currency Management claims compliance with the Global Investment Performance Standards (GIPS®) and has prepared and presented this report in compliance with the GIPS standards. Mesirow Currency Management has been independently verified for the periods January 1, 2014 to December 31, 2023. The verification report is available upon request. A firm that claims compliance with the GIPS standards must establish policies and procedures for complying with all the applicable requirements of the GIPS standards. Verification provides assurance on whether the firm's policies and procedures related to composite and pooled fund maintenance, as well as the calculation, presentation, and distribution of performance, have been designed in compliance with the GIPS standards and have been implemented on a firm-wide basis. Verification does not provide assurance on the accuracy of any specific performance report.

Mesirow Financial Investment Management, Inc. ("MFIM") is an investment advisory and management services firm and is an SEC-registered investment advisor, CFTC-registered commodity trading advisor and member of the NFA. The "Firm" is defined as Mesirow Currency Management ("MCM"), a business unit within MFIM.

Performance of the Extended Markets Currency Alpha Strategy prior to October 1, 2018, was attained at The Cambridge Strategy ("TCS"), an unaffiliated investment manager. On October 1, 2018, a MFIM affiliate completed the purchase of a significant portion of TCS' assets, including TCS' intellectual property and hired a majority of TCS employees.

The Extended Markets Currency Alpha Strategy commenced trading in April 2004 as a carve-out from an institutional account. From April 2004 through December 2010 performance is based on an equal-weighted composite of all accounts invested in the Extended Markets Currency Alpha Strategy; from January 2011 performance is based on the asset weighted performance of all accounts invested in that strategy. The composite was created January 2011.

Performance returns are presented in USD. The strategies illustrated above include accounts containing both client and Firm capital. To the extent that any account contained both client and Firm capital, assets in such account were traded in an identical manner and thus the client and Firm have identical gross returns. All net returns shown above have been pro-forma adjusted to reflect the highest fees that clients could incur in connection with such strategies and trading, and thus actual performance results may have varied. Net returns are calculated using implied management fees of 0.75% per annum and performance fees of 10% per annum. Performance fees are accrued daily, paid quarterly and a high watermark is employed. Performance is in USD and all returns and statistics are based on monthly returns. The composite includes all fee paying accounts, including both commingled and managed accounts, as well as accounts funded with Mesirow capital (which may be commingled with client assets).

All advisory fee schedules are negotiable and vary by investment strategy, product type, account size, customization requirements and required service levels. MFIM's' standard annual fee for the currency for return strategies can range up to 150 basis points per annum for the average market value of the client's portfolio plus a performance fee.

GIPS® reports for this composite published prior to October 1, 2024 included net performance returns calculated using implied management fees of 1.5% per annum and performance fees of 15% per annum. This was the highest fee level based on the highest volatility level and no longer accurately reflects a prospect's actual potential fee schedule. A new calculation methodology, using implied management fees of 0.75% per annum and performance fees of 10% per annum was applied to historical and future returns on October 1, 2024.

GIPS® reports for this composite published prior to May 1, 2025 included YTD net returns calculated using a summation of MTD net returns. Reports published after May 1, 2025 include YTD net returns calculated using performance fees that are accrued daily, paid quarterly and a high watermark is employed.

The Extended Markets Currency Alpha Strategy is an absolute return strategy and, as such, a benchmark is not appropriate for this composite.

The three-year annualized standard deviation measures the variability of the composite gross returns over the preceding 36-month period.

The composite dispersion is measured by the equal-weighted standard deviation of the gross returns for each portfolio in the composite. The measure of dispersion considers only portfolios included in the composite for the full year. When the composite consists of five or fewer portfolios for the full year, no dispersion measure is presented.

A list of composite descriptions is available upon request. Policies for valuing investments, calculating performance, and preparing GIPS reports are also available upon request.

Additional Notes: Because the composite's strategy is absolute return, no benchmark is presented because we believe that no benchmark that reflects this strategy exists. Past performance is not indicative of future results.
