Elegant & Sustainable Cuisine

Surrounded by a “sense of place” at Langdon Hall, Executive Chef Jason Bangerter’s culinary approach is inspired by the gardens, bees, and forest just outside his kitchen. His philosophy on using local ingredients and promoting sustainable choices is embraced by a talented culinary team, who shares the same vision.

Our menus reflect the change of the seasons, and are created with wholesome natural products that have been prepared with care and respect.

As Canada’s 5th best restaurant (2024), Langdon Hall’s 75 acre estate features fresh garden-grown and wild edible ingredients that pair perfectly with our creative culinary talent in the kitchen. The result is award-winning cuisine that delights the palate and keeps our guests coming back for more.
