

LIVE On January 27 At 8:00 PM ET, Big T Will Reveal The #1 Wealth-Building Opportunity of 2021...

FREEDOM 2021:

A Lifetime Of Wealth On IPO Day

JON: I'm Jon Alexander, and welcome to Freedom 2021.

Welcome to the biggest IPO boom on "record."

It's a "bonanza"...

That's creating "a new billionaire every week."

And we're still in "the top of the first inning."

We could be at the start of the "greatest wealth creation opportunity in history."

At least, that's what the media thinks.

But not Big T. Teeka is here today to share a warning. And whether you listen to it or not (he believes) could change your life. Teeka says it could be the difference between reaching your Freedom Number, this year... or never reaching financial freedom at all.

Teeka – last chance. Sure you want to do this?

TEEKA: Jon, we haven't gotten past the introduction and you're already busting my chops. Now, you didn't even wish me a Happy Birthday. And I know it's your Birthday too, so let's first start by saying Happy Birthday to each other.

JON: Happy Birthday, Teeka. And look, we're friends. That's why I'm a little concerned.

Here you are on your birthday, when you should be celebrating...

And instead: You're taking a stand AGAINST this IPO boom.

Teeka, they're literally calling it the greatest wealth creation opportunity. Ever.

I mean, you have a lot of people wondering...

TEEKA: I know what you're going to say. Friends, I know what you're all thinking.

Look, "Has Tiwari lost his mind – AGAIN?" Is he really nuts this time?

And what I would ask is for you to – is just to stick with me. Hear me out for a second. First of all, I want to thank you for being here. And I want you to know... look, I'm not living under a rock. I see the headlines, the hype you're being force fed every day. And that's why I'm here.

You know, what's really funny Jon... is that last year, here I was on my soap box screaming, yelling "IPOs, IPOs, IPOs." And I just I called it. I called for a "wave of IPOs unlike anything we've seen since the tech boom."

JON: Yeah, and it turns out you were right.

TEEKA: Right. More than that, Jon... you know, I was right to everybody looking back in hindsight. But at the time, people thought I was nuts. I was laughed at. Do you know how ridiculous I looked at the beginning of 2020 predicting the biggest IPO boom in 20 years – right before a pandemic? I mean, even my publisher said I was being irresponsible.

So nobody wanted to hear my IPO predictions back then. And nobody is going to want to hear my IPO predictions right now. You're not going to want to hear it, Jon. Friends, you at home are not going to want to hear this. And here's why:

I believe, over the coming days and weeks, the biggest IPO boom on record... it's going to morph into the biggest transfer of wealth on record. In fact, as I'm going to show you today, this wealth shift – it's not going to happen from Wall Street into your pocket. It's going to happen from Main Street, your pocket, to Wall Street. And it's already begun. And it's happened at an alarming rate. And that's why I had to be here tonight.

You see, retail investors, I'm talking mom-and-pop America, are being lulled into the IPO market – but on the wrong path. They are being fattened up for the kill.

And I'll tell you right now, Jon: Their wealth creation – to get free, to get the life they want – could be set back. I'm not talking one year, three years, like a normal bear market... or even five years, like a great financial crisis. I'm talking 10 years... 15 years... 20 years...

And in some horrible cases, some of them will never be able to recover.

This path that Wall Street is laying out for the average American... is what I call the "Hype Hole" Path.

Meanwhile, Wall Street... they're going into the IPO market on a different path, the right path. They're following a blueprint 999 out of 1,000 investors have never used, let alone realize they can use. And what I'm talking tonight about is something I call the Blueprint Path. This is path number two. And that's the path you want to be on. And I'm here to show everyone tonight how to get on the Blueprint Path.

In my opinion, it gives you the only legitimate shot I know of to reach your Freedom Number (in the stock market) in 2021. And of course, your Freedom Number is the amount of money you need to get the life that you want.

JON: That big a difference, Teeka? Basically the poorhouse vs. the penthouse really?

TEEKA: Jon, the first path could potentially wreck your financial future. Now, if you're 20, it's no big deal. If you're 30, it's no big deal. But if you're 40, 45... 50, 55... you can't veer off twenty years. That's a life sentence to being poor.

The Blueprint Path – the path I'm here to show you tonight – could give you a lifetime of wealth... Potentially, as I'll show in some examples tonight, in as little as one day.

Now, can I guarantee that? Of course I can't. That's ridiculous. Let me be clear: I cannot guarantee financial freedom for anyone watching tonight. Anybody who says that – I'll tell you right now... you got to run the other way.

What I'm here to do tonight is show you the reality of WHO is getting filthy rich in this IPO boom... but most importantly, HOW they're doing it. How they are using the Blueprint Path and avoiding the Hype Hole Path.

I'm here to show you the path that the richest men and women on Wall Street are using to make $100 million... $700 million... even an outrageous $4.6 billion... in a day.

And I'm here to show you how to protect yourself from the Hype Hole Path, which is already slashing the wealth of everyday investors – like you, Jon – like our friends at home – by 52%... 66%... 79%. Those aren't gains, those are losses.

Jon, two paths. Two different outcomes. One could lead to your Freedom Number. The other? Your retirement date gets pushed back decades. Decades, Jon. That's what's at risk here. That's why I canceled my birthday plans. That's why I had to be here. Again, this wealth transfer has already begun.

And I know you don't want to hear it. I know it's easier to say: "Oh, that Tiwari guy... He's crazy. This is the biggest IPO boom ever, everything's great, just buy everything." Friends, I get it. It feels good right now to be in IPOs. I understand. So tonight, I'm not going to ask you for blind faith. All I'm asking of you... is keep an open mind. Let me show you what's happening. Let me show you how to protect yourself from it. Let me give you the blueprint of how to profit from it. And what you do with this information – ultimately, it's up to you, but at least you'll have it in your hands.

JON: Teeka, I feel like I just had déjà vu.

Look, everybody knows you as the guy who spots the booms early. Right?

- Apple back in 2003. It went on to become the world's first trillion-dollar company.
- Or 2015, your call for a bull market in equities. That bull market went on to become the longest in stock market history.
- Heck, we can just go back to last year, 2020... you had your readers in gold stocks before its best rally in a decade.

But what I'm remembering right now though... Is actually December 2017. It was the peak of the crypto bubble. And you caught everyone by surprise. You warned: "Volatility is coming. Prepare yourself." What happened next? This is pretty amazing. Three days later, the bubble popped.

My point of all this, is, you see both sides of the chess board. That's how your readers have been able to navigate Bitcoin from $400... all the way to $40,000. And that's why, as much as I don't want the IPO boom to pop, I know that I need to have an open mind.

TEEKA: Oh my goodness, Jon. I probably took more flack for that crypto warning than anything I've ever written in my career. Nobody wanted to hear it. I was disinvited from all the crypto parties.

Now, my warning for the IPO market, though, let me be clear...

My warning is different. I'm not saying the music is going to stop. In fact, the exact opposite. There's going to be billions made out of this IPO boom. But we can't tap into those billions the way everybody thinks they should be doing it. Most people, they're falling into the Hype Hole. They're buying IPOs the wrong way. They're not using the Blueprint Path. Look, let me show you what I mean...

Let's look at a tech stock called BigCommerce. Specifically, we're going to look at August 5, on IPO day.

On IPO day, Jon, the media couldn't stop talking about BigCommerce. They said it was "roaring"... and "surging"... and "record breaking." Before you knew it, the hype machine launched shares so high, BigCommerce had the biggest "IPO day pop of 2020."

Get this, Jon. Retail investors made as much as 292% in a day.

JON: 292% in a day. Teeka... boy, that sure sounds like a loser. I mean, is it hype if it's true?

TEEKA: Ah, Jon... This is part I was warning you about. Friends, this is the part you won't want to see.

Let's look at BigCommerce AFTER retail investors were lured in by the hype... and fattened up for the slaughter. Look at this. BigCommerce came crashing down to Earth. That 292% gain deflated... not to 200%, not to 100%, or even 50%. Retail investors are now down 8%. And if you bought it at the peak, you're down 24%.

They lost money, Jon. This is the Hype Hole.

On IPO day, you feel like a rock star. You're pounding your chest. You go home, you feel like you got a cape on, you're Superman, wind's blowing, you can stop bullets. And then reality hits. Your 292% gain turns into an as much as a 24% loss.

JON: From a 292% gain to an 8% or a 24% loss. Yeah, that rough to look at for sure, Teeka.

TEEKA: Jon, you know what's really rough?

It's knowing where all the money actually went.

Look at this. In the same stock... on the same day, IPO day... Morgan Stanley, Barclays... they saw over $216 million flood in. In percentage terms, we're talking a 6,684% gain.

So let's stack them up. Hype Hole Path: As much as a 24% loss. Blueprint Path: A 6,000% gain. A $0 payday vs. a $216 million payday.

JON: Yeah, Teeka, that's unreal. I've never heard of this – The Blueprint.

TEEKA: And you're not going to, Jon. Think about it. If you have a money machine, do you really want the rest of the world having access to it? NO.

In fact, one Stanford Professor even tried to study the returns in Blueprint Path. You know what he said? He said: If you think finding an insider in this market is hard, "try getting one to share their secrets with you."

And that's why I'm here. I'm here to give this blueprint to you, because no one else is incentivized to give it to you. And with it in your hands, friends, you won't end up like retail investors in this next example...

Look at this one. This is another tech stock, Root. And once again, IPO day came, and the media had retail investors just clamoring down the hype hole. It's like there's a big hole in the floor and people are just jumping into it. And Wall Street's telling them, "Yeah, come on in. Yeah, the water's warm. Come on in." It's a huge hole.

And they said Root was "disruptive." They said its IPO "exceeded all expectations." And at the end of the day, what did retail investors get?

9%, Jon.

Now, I want you to watch this, Jon... and try not to get too mad. I don't want to get in trouble with your wife.

Look at this. After all the hype, the wealth transfer has begun. Guess what happened? Root's shares collapsed 24%. Retail investors lost money in this deal. Which is hard enough, right Jon? Taking a loss.

JON: It stings every time.

TEEKA: But the fact is, the retail investors who were lulled into this hype hole, they didn't just take a loss. That's bad enough. But they paid for someone else's gain. Do you understand that, Jon? They jumped into the Hype Hole and funded somebody else's dreams, somebody else's Freedom Number. Let me show you how this works...

Using the Blueprint Path – which is the path no one on Wall Street is ever going to tell you about – companies like Goldman Sachs and Wells Fargo... guess what they made? $724 million. In percentage terms, it's a 7,141% gain.

Jon, one stock. Two paths. Two completely different outcomes. ON THE SAME STOCK.

The hype hole sets you up for a 24% loss. No profits.

The Blueprint Path – on the same stock – gets you a 7,141% gain.

JON: Wow. Yeah, now I see what the media meant by exceeded expectations. A $700 million payday... a 7,000% gain... this tech IPO exceeded expectations for Wall Street. But not Main Street. We got $0. I mean, why would we... why's this even going on?

TEEKA: Look, let me ask you a question, Jon: If you could make $700 million every time you put somebody down the Hype Hole path, would you do it?

Well, look, I'm going to take that statement back, because I know you would never do it. You're a good guy. You would never do that. There isn't any amount of money that would compel you to knowingly do that to somebody. But I got to tell you: I worked with these sharks for 15 years on Wall Street. And they are sharks. Do you understand they view us as animals to feed on, like prey? Like cattle to be slaughtered. They do not view us as human beings. Right? They are sociopaths. They will do that to us all day long.. And that's why I'm here today. To get you on that right path.

So let's start talking about what happens when you get on the right path, specifically in technology. Which we all know can change your life THAT quickly.

Look at this...

People who were on the wrong path in a stock called Wish lost 14%. But the ones who were on the blueprint path they're up 2,784%.

Now that turns $10,000 into – get this – $278,400. That's someone's Freedom Number right there.

Or look at this one, Lyra. People who were on the wrong path in Lyra lost 20%. But the ones who were on the blueprint path – the path I'm here to teach you about tonight – they're up 6,087%.

Jon, that turns $10,000 into $600,000. Jon – think about that. $10,000 into $600,000. Just take a moment and visualize that. Imagine that, Jon. What that does for your life. What that does that do for the average American family. $600,000... it's life changing. It's another Freedom Number just smashed.

Ponder that, just for a moment. Two paths. Same stock. Two very different outcomes. Everybody watching here tonight I'm going to speak to you right now: Whether you want to work with me, whether you like me or don't like me... it doesn't matter. You have to learn how this Blueprint Path works. Because whether you're aware of it or not... it is being used against you. This is why you must learn how it works. So you can at least spot it.

JON: Yeah, Teeka. I mean, a 14% loss... a 20% loss... I had no idea this was going on.

TEEKA: Yeah, most people don't, Jon. All we hear are the fancy one-day headlines. In fact – I got to tell you: most people just do not know how bad it is.

Let me say this: Again, this is the biggest and the most active IPO market I've seen since the late 90s. In 2020, there were (on average) nearly two IPO's every trading day. It was insane. And in 2021, all the heavy hitters on Wall Street say it's going to, in their words, "accelerate."

Do you think they mean it's going to accelerate, in a good way? For them, yeah, absolutely. They're going to make billions.

But for you, Jon – for you friends at home – No. Not if they have their way. If they have their way, you're going to be trapped. They're going to raid your money like a piggy bank. You're going to be trapped in the hype hole with shares of Nikola, for instance.

You want to talk about hype? Let's talk about wholesale fraud. Let's talk about somebody breaking into your house, knocking you over the head, and stealing your future. Let's talk about that...

Nikola had no revenue...

No working product...

And money managers were telling Main Street it could be worth $100 billion.

Jon, Nikola's being investigated by the DOJ for fraud as we speak. Retail investors, investors in path one, the Hype Hole Path, they're down 47%. Those that were on the Blueprint Path are up over 4,360%. They're still up over 4,000%.

How many times have you bought a stock where it's dropped 47% and you're still up 4,000%? It's NEVER happened.

The bottom line is this: In this IPO boom, there are only two paths in front of you.

I'll tell you right now: You can fall into the hype hole, and potentially never be able to retire... spend the next 60 years of your life working. If that's what you want to do, go for it. I don't think it's a good idea. That's path one.

Or path two. You can do what Wall Street does behind your back, which they will never tell you about because they make so much money from it. It's incredibly different than what they're telling you to do. And it's the blueprint Path. I'm tonight, I'm going to give that Blueprint Path to you, for free.

JON: Awesome, Teeka. Now, we've got our Q&A coming up. But there's one question that keeps coming. And you can imagine what that is: What is the blueprint? What's Wall Street doing that's so different?

I know I don't want to touch a tech stock without it. But heck, after today, I may never want to touch a tech stock again.

TEEKA: I'm glad you brought that up, Jon.

Because I want to be clear: For all tech stocks, that's simply not the case. You just have to know where the money is flowing to.

Last year, for instance, the smartest investors on the planet moved an average of $175 million into tech per day. Jon, per day. You don't move $175 million into a sector on a daily basis if it's destroying your wealth. So where did all this capital flow too? That's the question you want to ask yourself. Where's all that money going to?

It's going to venture capitalists (VC's). You see, They know the tech market inside and out.

And recently, it's come to my attention three separate VC's have all made a shocking move. They've all invested in a tiny tech company. Now, 99.99% of investors, they don't know this company exists.

These three VC's, as I'll explain in just a moment, represent among the heaviest of heavy hitters in Silicon Valley.

And what's shocking is, Jon, they're not investing in this tiny tech deal on behalf of their respective firms. No. They're doing something much more important than that. They're actually investing with their own money, Jon. They're reaching into their own wallet. Not with a pension fund's money, which is easy to speculate with. They've put their hand in their own wallet, pulled out their own money, and put it on the table.

And not only that, Jon...

They haven't just taken one slice of the pie. They've come back for seconds and thirds. Which is rare. Right now, you have three legendary VC's all invested in the same deal, all – again, this is critical – with their own money... and the icing on the cake is, they keep coming back for more. These guys are gorging so hard, it's like – imagine a kid with blueberry cake, his face is just smeared with blueberries. They've been in just an absolute buying frenzy.

JON: Teeka, Teeka. That sounds amazing. But I'm still confused. What does that have to do with the blueprint.

TEEKA: Everything, Jon. Everything.

Now, friends. This is where the rubber meets the road. I want you to pay very special attention to what I'm about to say next.

So, tonight, what I've already explained to you is... there are two paths you can use to get in any deal. And the same is true for this. You've got two paths. There's the blueprint path. And there's the hype hole path.

Put simply, the hype hole is the path almost every retail investor takes. And what I mean is, they invest AFTER IPO day. AFTER all the VC's make their move and Wall Street swoops in.

Now, the Blueprint Path – the path the top moneymakers on the planet are using... you see those kids that are billionaires... this is the path they're using to make billions. The blueprint path.

This is when you invest in the deal BEFORE it IPOs. There term is called pre-IPO. This is the path virtually every retail investor in America is not taking. But this is the path you must take in the IPO market... if you want to have a shot reaching your freedom number this year. It's the only way that you should touch an IPO.

And I'm here with big news, friends...

You can – no matter your net worth – now actually get shares in a pre-IPO deal. You can get on the "Blueprint Path." And not just in any deal... you can get in THE tech deal I've been talking to you about. The tech deal that has three legendary VC's gorging on shares like a fat kid eating cake.

JON: I got it. That's big news. That would make this your first ever pre-IPO tech recommendation, right?

TEEKA: Right. It's my first pre-IPO tech recommendation, in technology. Ever. And I've been waiting to find the right deal. And I'm incredibly excited to cover all the details.

First though, I want to cover just how much money Wall Street keeps out of your hands by keeping pre-IPO deals to themselves. I want to make sure they never lead you down the hype hole again.

So what I'm going to do is take you back to the tech boom, back when I first discovered how Wall Street was duping the American public out of a fortune. I'm also going to show you how important it is to follow the smart money – the VCs.

From there, we'll hit the ground running. I'll tell you everything you need to know about this special tech deal. Including how to get pre-IPO shares in this deal – and own it on the blueprint path – BEFORE IPO day.

JON: Yeah, that's exciting. And folks, I'll just remind you: If you have any questions, go ahead and type them into the comment box. It should be to the right of this video. After Teeka gives us details on this pre-IPO tech recommendation, we'll get right into our Q&A.

So, Teeka. If I recall correctly, during the tech boom you were working at the brokerage houses of Wall Street's top investment banks.

TEEKA: Correct.

I got my first big break at Shearson Lehman bros., where I was fortunate enough to become the youngest VP in history. From there, I went to work at Cowen and company.

Now, Shearson was a key player in the IPO market for over a century. It took some massive companies public, like Merrill Lynch and many others. And Cowan & Co, in fact, was just ranked the top IPO bank in the world.

What I quickly learned is: Watch what Wall Street does, not what they say.

Let me cut right to the chase and show you what I mean...

Back in 1995. All eyes were on a tiny tech company preparing to go public on the Nasdaq. You may have heard of them? The company's name was Netscape.

Now watch this. Jim Clark, the first VC to invest in Netscape, put $3 million in on the blueprint path, in the pre-IPO. On IPO day – check this out, he made a half-a-billion. That was back when half a billion was a lot of money. So he made a 16,600% gain.

JON: So where's the highway robbery?

TEEKA: Well, I'm going to show you. You're not going to like it. Nobody here is going to like it.

Let's look at Netscape on IPO day for retail investors. And I'll give you a deep dive on one of the dirtiest secrets on Wall Street.

Look here on the left. On IPO day, when retail investors were finally allowed in Netscape, the cheapest they could get shares for were $28. Which means they saw a gain of only 108%.

So: 108% vs. 16,600%.

JON: 108% is nothing to sneeze at. That's a good gain. But when you see it next to that 16,000% gain... that's when you get that feeling of "I'm getting robbed" comes into play.

I mean, why was the deal setup even setup this way?

TEEKA: Because of Morgan Stanley.

They were Netscape's banker, so they helped bring Netscape shares to market.

And by "help," I mean Morgan Stanley made sure their favorite clients got a huge payday.

This is a headline after Netscape's IPO in '95. Take a look. It says: "Institutional Investors Get First Crack at the Netscape Offering."

Look. You can see the ugly truth.

The fact is, You've been conditioned by Wall Street to think making a double in a day is a lot.

Friends, it's table scraps. It's table scraps the Wall Streets dealmakers throw your way. Meanwhile, these guys are laughing their butts off. Why? So they can offload their 16,000% gain stock onto you, and have you feeling like you got a great deal. You crack a bottle of champagne and feel like superman. And you got played.

And it happens not on one deal, not on two deals, or 20 deals... on every deal...

JON: Wow. Every single deal?

TEEKA: Every single deal. Let's fast-forward to '96.

In '96, the biggest tech deal was Yahoo.

Sequoia Capital, the VCs that backed Apple, had Blueprint shares at $0.37.

On IPO day, the value of the shares soared to $33. An 8,920% gain.

But you're not in on that deal before IPO Day. What do you get?

I'll tell you: you get whatever Goldman Sachs, the lead banker of this deal, throws you.

In this case, they gave retail investors shares for $24.50. You make 154%.

JON: My goodness. 8,920% vs. 154%. I'll tell you: Wall street conditioning is so strong... I continue to justify it in my head. You know, "154% is good." But I should just be outraged... because just look. 154% is nothing to my freedom number... compared to 9,000%. That's the outhouse vs. the penthouse. I have no chance.

TEEKA: No chance. See this is the thing, Wall Street has us convinced that we shouldn't be greedy, right? "Oh, we gave you 154%, you should be happy with that." That's being greedy? I mean, if I make 154% and you make 9,000%... who's the greedy one? Let's be equitable. Split it in half at least. C'mon.

Again, let's put this in perspective: If you make 154%, you're going to feel like a hero. But the ugly truth is, That Goldman banker is laughing his ass off. He's popping champagne on the brand-new Yacht that you bought him. You bailed him out of his shares.

He gives you a 100% gain... so you could give him almost 9,000% in one day. That's the reality. Is that a good trade? Is that equitable?

It's not.

Hopefully, by now, everyone can see the hype hole is how they steal your wealth. Because that's what it is, it's a wealth theft path. That's what it is... it's leading you to give up your wealth to them. If you insist on going down that path, you might as well cut a check to Goldman Sachs directly. You'll have less heartache.

But the worst news? I haven't even actually shown you the worst of it.

JON: My goodness, you're giving me a heart attack here on your birthday, Teeka. I can't believe it gets any worse than this.

TEEKA: I want you to take a look at Amazon on IPO Day...

Same odds stacked against you:

You're looking at 31% for Main Street that were taken down the hype hole vs. 9,165% in "Blueprint" IPO gains.

And yet, after IPO Day, the difference between the blueprint path and the hype hole path, it gets even wider. Remember: two paths, one stock.

Here's a snapshot of Amazon's gains up to today.

If you were incredibly disciplined and never sold, you would've made 11,200% as a retail investor. That's an amazing move.

But... it's nothing compared to pre-IPO investors.

Look at this. If you were in on the pre-IPO, and had the same amount of discipline... you could've made up to 3,800,000%. Let's examine this...

You and I both had the same level of discipline. You both sat there for 20 years. You sat through all the crashes... except the guy who takes the blueprint path – he makes 3,800,000%. The guy that takes the hype hole path: he makes 11,200%.

JON: It's unreal.

TEEKA: Let's put it in numbers. If you had invested $250 on the hype hole path, and sat still for 20 years... you make $28,000. That won't even get you a nice pickup truck anymore. And you waited 20 years.

$250 in the blueprint path, 20 years of sitting, now you're looking at $9.5 million. Well, I'll sit for 20 years if I can get $9.5 million. It gets me a vacation home, it gets me a bigger main home, pays for the education of all my children, my grandchildren, provides me with retirement income for life. Allows me to change the life of thousands of people in my community. Allows me to add value to the world around me. And still have millions and millions and millions left over.

Again, $9.5 million, having the entire life you want, positively impacting your community... Vs. a Honda accord.

Same stock, same holding period.

Friends, understand: They paid you $28,000 so YOU could pay them $9.5 million. Is that a fair trade? Is that right?

JON: No. Which explains why so many folks are getting to my age. And you know Teeka, we're not anywhere closer to our dreams. We've been trapped in the hype hole path. Not the pre-ipo blueprint path.

TEEKA: Exactly. Two paths, two completely different outcomes. It's the difference between living a life where your dreams are always just of your reach... versus living a life where your dreams (and your family's dreams) become reality.

Now, admittedly, Amazon is extraordinary, but it's not the exception.

Let's take a look at broadcast.com on IPO Day. Remember, those guys?

JON: So, once again, it looks like the deck was stacked against us.

Main Street saw a 249% 1-day gain, which is great. But the pre-IPO guys? 99,900%.

TEEKA: That's not all. See, this was just the beginning. Nine months after it IPO'd, broadcast.com was acquired.

Now, as a Main Street investor, you would've seen an all-in gain of 364%. That's a killer return.

BUT... If you were on the blueprint path investor, a pre-IPO investor, you would've seen 570,000%.

So hype hole path: your $250 would've grown to $910...

Blueprint path investors: your $250 would've transformed into $1.4 million, in under a year. Nine months, Jon.

What does $1.4 million do for the average family? It is life changing money. You put it in blue chip stocks and you're making $60,000 a year, like clockwork. It's life changing money.

In fact, that's exactly how the cofounder of broadcast.com put it.

After the acquisition, he said coming into wealth suddenly is lifechanging. You've won the lottery. In his own words, "Before this, I had zero net worth."

JON: It's incredible. I have to ask... I mean, are you just showing us the best deals?

TEEKA: Here's the thing... when you're in a crazy IPO market (like we're in today, and it's got legs) just about every deal does incredibly well.

The tech boom, for example, brought out over 1,000 new companies to market. And the most obscure of them were often the most lucrative.

Remember DoubleClick? You can bet "Blueprint" path IPO investors remember DoubleClick.

They saw up to 317,400% gains on IPO day. Look what happened at acquisition: the return for Blueprint path investors soared was almost 3,500,000%. That's not a typo.

So let's put it in dollar terms. Every $250 turns the put in on the blueprint path, they got back $8.7 million.

Meanwhile, every $250 main street investors got on the hype hole path, they got $800 bucks.

JON: I never signed up for that deal. I never signed up for them to pay me $800, so they could walk away $8 million.

TEEKA: Friends, this is the real truth, and it's ugly. And it stinks.

If you're on Main Street, you can now see this proof...

You are only getting Wall Street's table scraps.

You were the person buying the stock for this guys on IPO day, so he could go buy his jet... so he could go buy his $40 million mansion, so he could go buy his $30 million Yacht. Where do you think those guys get that money from? They get it from you.

The way he dupes you into buying his stock is letting you have a double or a triple or even a quadruple... while he's making billions.

The same thing is happening to you right now, today, in 2021. And that's why I'm here tonight. I'm here tonight to put you on the Blueprint Path.

JON: Teeka, wow... this is... I'm disturbed.

And what's worse is, I couldn't have gotten in on any of these deals. The blueprint path wasn't an option for me. So here in 2021, it sounds like the world has changed thankfully.

TEEKA: Jon, it has. Look, it's always driven me crazy. Ever since I got involved professionally in the stock market at Shearson Lehman in 1989, you had no choice but to go down the hype hole. There wasn't any other way to get into these deals. But fortunately, that's not the case anymore. The SEC has finally cut through the red tape.

And since the red tape has been cut, ANYONE can get into deal on the Blueprint Path.

Of course, just because the red tape is cut... it doesn't mean Wall Street is going to welcome you with open arms, roll out the red carpets, and kiss you on both cheeks.

You really think they want you in on these tech deals... on the Blueprint Path? NO.

The fact is, the best pre-IPO deals are still only found in one place: On the inside of the market.

To find the best of the best, you have to get invited into the private estates, you got to get onto the private jets of billionaires. You need to be on a first name basis with some of the world's top VC's.

The good news is: I'm fortunate enough to be in that position. That's why I've started a service dedicated to helping people uncover these Blueprint pre-IPOs... now that anyone can get into them.

It's a research service called Palm Beach Venture. And it's the culmination of my life's work in capital markets. Venture makes it possible for Main Street to finally follow the lead of the world's top VCs, instead of going down the hype hole path.

And that's exactly the opportunity I'm putting in front of you today.

Not just with one VC... Not just with two VC's...

As I mentioned earlier, I'm targeting my first ever "Blueprint" pre-IPO in technology. And it's already drawn the attention of three of the top VC's on the planet. They're putting their own money in this deal. And here's the thing, Jon...

I have sort of a "Birthday surprise" for you.

JON: I'm not a big fan of surprises, Teeka. Especially when it comes to investing.

TEEKA: You're going to like this one, Jon.

You see, what I didn't tell you about this deal earlier is THIS:

You can get in for just $0.50. Just $0.50. Now why's that's important? Because it's the same the terms, same share price, the founder and CEO of this deal invested at.

That's how early members of my Venture service will be getting on the "Blueprint Path."

This deal could not be any further away from the hype hole that I've talked to you about all evening.

JON: You were right. This is definitely the kind of surprise I like.

Look, I know details on this kind of thing are typically reserved for members. But since we're both celebrating our birthdays this week... c'mon... can we make an exception for the people watching?

What else can you tell me and the folks at home about this deal?

TEEKA: Let's do a deep dive. And I'm going to do something I normally don't do, unless it's for subscribers. I'm going to kind of "unlock" the doors to Venture here a little bit and offer you a peak in... and let you know why I've just put out a full buy alert on this Blueprint Pre-IPO. Does that sound good, Jon?

JON: Yeah, that sounds awesome and then we can get into the Q&A.

TEEKA: OK. So let's get into it.

To start, I need to take you to Silicon Valley...

Take a look at this. It's coming up on your screen here. Although few people know it exists, the building on your screen is one of the most important locations in Silicon Valley.

- LED lights...
- Laser printers...
- The first smartwatch...
- The first personal computer...

They all originated out of this lab.

See, this is the Hewlett Packard Lab.

Why am I telling you this?

Because it's here, in this lab, that the first VC in my "Blueprint IPO" recommendation got his start. In fact, he used to manage it.

And while he was there, he developed the first commercial "receiver" for a tech you may have heard of, Jon. Now, you were in the military, so you'll be familiar with this tech. GPS.

JON: Yeah, that rings a bell.

TEEKA: Right. Even more incredible: Shortly after he created this GPS technology, a company named Trimble acquired it. Now, they were tiny at the time. Today they're a $18 billion giant in GPS tech.

And what I want you to understand, Jon, is this man... how can I put it... he's got a rare ability. There's only a handful of people in this world who have it. What I mean is, he doesn't just know how to spot the next big thing... he knows how to build the next big thing.

Which is why a move of his caught my attention.

You see, he didn't just decide to invest his personal money in a tiny tech company... He actually decided to come on board as an advisor.

JON: That's interesting.

TEEKA: Well, it's incredibly interesting. Because you've got to understand: This man can do a million different things. And the fact that he's committed his time and his money... says a lot to me. Most VC's cut a check and that's it. But not this VC. And this is what gets me really interested in this deal...

After this VC got his "hands on" in this deal, kind of rolling up his sleeves, and getting his hands dirty with the tech... he decides to cut a second check. Then he says, you know what? I want to own more. He cuts a third check. He reaches into his own pocket, pulled money out of his own wallet, not once... not twice... but three times.

Now, Jon:

Do you think this guy plays around when it comes to tech?

Do you think this guy plays around when it comes to his own money?

Again, he's not investing on behalf of some pension fund, Jon. Or some wild hedge fund, he can take massive risks with. This is his own cash on the line. And he keeps pushing more and more chips in.

JON: Ah, so he likes his "hand." He likes what he sees.

TEEKA: Yeah, and he's not the only one...

I want you to take a look at this.

On your screen is a snapshot of Intuit, one of the biggest success stories in tech. Now, look, if you were on the "Blueprint Path" – the path that you want to be on – you could've seen growth of 3,900%. And do you know who was on the "Blueprint Path" in Intuit, Jon?

VC #2. He's involved in this "Blueprint" tech deal as well.

Now, you want to talk about a heavy hitter in tech, Jon? You want to talk about a guy who knows how to operate on the "Blueprint Path" and stay away from the hype hole path... let me give you a little more background on VC #2.

This is a guy who knows how to spot the next big thing AND – just like VC #1 – how to build the next thing. In fact, he was so good at it, Intuit made him CFO... then CTO... and THEN CEO. And Intuit's revenue grew from $20 million to over $6 billion.

What does that tell you about a guy like that?

JON: He's got a high-end skill set that very few people in the world have.

TEEKA: Clearly, a gentleman that understands technology. Understands value. And understands how to create value. Now this is why a billion-dollar VC firm came knocking on his doorstep to be a partner.

Here's the thing, though, Jon... if you can take a business from $20 million to $6 billion, everybody wants a piece of you. They're practically throwing capital at you to invest.

And yet, when it came to the "Blueprint" IPO I'm sharing with my Venture readers, VC #2 invested his OWN money, Jon. He didn't want to share the deal. He put his own money into the deal.

JON: Unreal. Two VC's of that caliber have put their own money in the same deal. Has to be rare.

TEEKA: Jon, it's incredibly rare. That's why I've waited so long before recommending a tech deal. I wanted to bring the right deal... at the right time... to my readers. Now, these two VC's alone – again – had me right on the edge of pulling the trigger.

But when I saw the third VC, I knew without a doubt it had to be my first ever tech deal. It was like my money sense lit up like a Christmas tree. I mean, when I see an opportunity it's almost like I'm in a room of a million $100 bills... and that crisp smell is in the air. That's what I felt as soon as I found out about VC #3.

So who is VC #3?

It's actually a collective – what Silicon Valley calls an "accelerator."

And it goes by the acronym A.A. Now, if you've never heard of it, I hadn't either. In fact, when my team and I first dug into this deal... we really didn't think anything of it at the time. Something kept bugging me though... I can't explain it. I couldn't get those two letters out of my mind. "A.A., A.A. A.A." It was like that sixth sense... that money sense I have... I couldn't sleep. It was just plaguing me.

So my team and I dug in, and oh my good lord... we hit the motherlode.

Jon, A.A. is a collective that invests on behalf of the top VC's on the planet.

I'm talking about Andreessen Horowitz. That's Marc Andreessen's firm, the guy behind Netscape, the guy behind the 16,000% "Blueprint" gain.

I'm talking about Accel Ventures. You may have heard of one of their deals: Facebook. Blueprint investors in the pre-IPO saw up to a 200,000% gain.

And I'm talking about DFJ. DFJ might take the cake...

They're the VC's behind Tesla (it's been in the news lately), Twitter, Coinbase. All of which have unlocked lifechanging profits for investors that were on the Blueprint Path. Not the hype hole path.

JON: Teeka, my mind is buzzing. And I can actually be a pre-IPO "Blueprint" investor in the same deal... at $0.50. I mean, I have to know. What do all these VC's see that has them so excited?

TEEKA: It's not what, Jon... it's who.

You see, my first ever "Blueprint" pre-IPO recommendation in tech was started by a legendary engineer. Now, I can't give too many details on who this gentleman is or what exactly he's created – that wouldn't be fair to my Venture members. And this deal is tiny. There isn't enough for everybody on here to own it.

What I will say is reputation is so well-known in Silicon Valley, Google came to him and made him an advisor to Google X. Now, what is Google X. Not everybody knows what that is. Google X is what they call the "Moonshot Factory." It's where their self-driving car project started. That's now a $30 billion operation.

And specifically, the project this engineer helped launch at Google is now its own standalone organization with 1,000 employees.

JON: So this guy, building the next big thing is his specialty.

TEEKA: Right. That's what he does. In my opinion, he's the best in the tech community at what he does – and the tech community knows it.

Softbank – the largest VC firm in the world – invested in one of his previous companies. And then Uber came along and bought the whole thing out.

Jon, can you begin to see why all of these VC's I mentioned today are just gobbling shares up in this deal?

Can you begin to see why they're investing their own money?

And can you begin to see why they keep coming back for another bite of the apple?

Friends, when you have this many of the top moneymakers on the planet all coalescing around a single deal... and you have shot to own a piece of it at the blueprint path level... not the hype hole level... I'm telling you right now: you got to take that shot. You owe it to your future self to take that shot.

Which is why I've put all my analysis on this deal, its founder, the new tech he's developed, and most importantly... how to get blueprint "pre-IPO" shares... I've put all of that in easy-to-read briefing. It's now available to Palm Beach Venture members. And I'd like it to make it available to you as well. I want to get it in your hands right now.

JON: Sounds like there's some urgency here.

TEEKA: There is, Jon.

Since it came on my radar, the situation has escalated.

There aren't just three VC's who've bought up shares. There are now a total of eight. Eight of the most connected moneymakers in this world all buying up shares.

If you don't get in this deal today, it's quite possible you'll never get the opportunity to buy shares, on the blueprint path. Sure, when it goes public, you'll have a shot to own it on the hype hole path... when brokers are out there touting the stock. You'll have a shot own it a year from now when Wall Street takes out the shears and fleeces you. But that's not what you want. That's not the way to invest in these IPO deals.

That's why I'm here, literally, on my birthday.

Look, my whole life has been about putting people on the right path. At the right time.

And in Palm Beach Venture, that's what you'll learn. How to get on the right path.

How to get on the Blueprint path in Wish and make 2,784%, instead of losing 14% on the hype hole...

How to get on the Blueprint path in Big Commerce and potentially make 6,684%, instead of losing 24% on the hype hole...

How to get on the Blueprint path in Lyra and make 3,500%, instead of losing 47% in the hype hole...

I'm here to make sure you get on the Blueprint path. Not the hype hole path. I'm here to put you on a path so you could potentially hit your freedom number, this year. Not five years from now, not 10 years from now, not 20 years from now. This year. That's my goal. And that's why I'm here tonight.

JON: Wow. Teeka – look. I don't want to waste another moment. I need to know the name of your first ever pre-IPO tech recommendation. And I know our viewers do too.

So, folks, I want to show you how to get your hands on this report, immediately. And then we'll get right into our Q&A

Now, as Teeka mentioned, this blueprint buy alert is available to members of Palm Beach Venture.

Now, Palm Beach Venture is by no means cheap. And rightly so...

That's because Teeka's services are the most capital-intensive to produce. Listen to this: As one of his subscribers, you're supported by a full-time staff of 160 analysts, editors, and customer service.

That's why the cost for one-year of Venture is $5,000.

However, because you made the time to be here...

You're not going to be paying anywhere near the set retail price.

Teeka worked out a special deal on the publisher's fee. It's for new Palm Beach Venture members.

In short: You're not going to pay anywhere near the $5,000 fee.

You won't pay $4,000 or even $3,000 either.

You're going to receive a substantial discount of at least 50%.

In short: By becoming the newest member of Venture, today, you can secure a discount in excess of $2,500.

And if you're a current subscriber of Palm Beach Confidential, this discount will be much higher.

The moment you join Venture, you'll immediately be sent Teeka's urgent briefing. This briefing contains everything you need to know to get shares in this "Blueprint pre-IPO" today. This is Teeka's first ever pre-IPO recommendation in tech.

Now, there should be a button somewhere beside your screen. I want you to click it. It'll open a separate tab where you can go over all the benefits of being a Palm beach venture member.

One thing I can tell you right now folks: You will never see a better offer for Venture. You're getting access to Teeka's most elite research service for half off. For only $2,500. And most importantly, you're getting on the blueprint path. You're going to be able to buy share in Teeka's first ever blueprint tech IPO immediately. In other words, you're getting off the hype hole.

To do that, simply click on the button right beside your screen.

Of course, if you're sitting at home, and the cost of this service could is a risk financially...

Well, Teeka – I believe you had something to say about this.

TEEKA: Yes. I never ever want to be the cause of any financial strain to anyone.

There's risk in everything. I'm never going to tell you these pre-IPO shares don't have risk. Of course they have risk, okay?

So, if buying Venture represents a terrific financial burden, don't do it.

But I know for a lot of folks watching right now, $2,500 is certainly an investment, but it's not going to put them in the poorhouse.

So, relative to what we bring to the table – in my opinion, it's a no-brainer.

The brains, the people, the resources, millions of dollars-worth of resources...

I don't know anywhere in the world where you can get access to this much brain power, to such an organization, to such a network, for such a small amount of money.

You know, there are professional research houses that sell to Wall Street, and their research services start at $2 million a year.

You just can't get access to this quality of research, anywhere, for even a fraction of this cost.

So again: if this represents an extreme financial hardship, wait. Build up your cash to the point where you can come work with me in the future, when it makes more sense for you.

However, if this is not a financial hardship for you, then I think this is a no-brainer, right?

When you can have the ability to take a tiny amount of money and move the needle on your net worth, without putting your current lifestyle at risk... you got to take that bet. Especially when that bet's being backed by some of the smartest VC guys in the world, right?

JON: Folks, you heard Teeka.

You simply can't find research like this anywhere else, at this level.

Palm Beach Venture is your first-class ticket to getting on the blueprint path.

And as a result, your Freedom Number

So I urge you: click the button right now.

Review the details of the offer... it should open up in a separate tab... and Teeka and I will get right to the Q&A.
