James Davis, Sr. Manager, Business Applications

Customer success

How we helped the nation's leading landscaping services company implement a fully integrated field service management solution

Challenge

Brightview's biggest challenge was the inability to scale to effectively grow their business. They had outdated and costly technology to manage service providers and were heavily bloated with short-term administrative staff.

Solution

By implementing the mywork platform, Brightview was able to simplify the onboarding and management of over ten thousand technicians and subcontractors. The result reduced administrative overhead by 80% and software technology spend by more than $1 million annually.
