

POCKET BLOCKS FAMILY

POCKET BLOCKS FAMILY

Public spaces thrive on versatility, creativity, and connection. Pocket Blocks are designed to deliver all three—empowering communities to transform overlooked corners and empty stretches into dynamic social hubs. These modular benches and planters are more than just furniture; they're tools for urban alchemy. With a family of interconnecting forms—including rectangles, squares, wavy blocks, hemispheres, and backrests—Pocket Blocks invite endless possibilities for customization. Group them, line them, curve them. Create cozy nooks, flowing benches, or expansive statement gathering spots.

From Overlooked to Overjoyed Third Spaces

Pocket Blocks make it easy to bring life to often forgotten spaces. Whether it's a pocket park, a sidewalk expansion, or a pop-up plaza, these units inspire playful, people-centric design. They can be paired with public art, street murals, or greenery to add a biophilic touch, creating urban landscapes that are as vibrant as they are functional.

Fast, Flexible, Future-Ready Placemaking

Thanks to their modular design, Pocket Blocks are perfect for urban spaces that need flexibility. They allow for rapid installation and reconfiguration, making it easy to experiment and evolve with the needs of the community. Want to test out a pocket park or enliven a parklet?
