

CORPORATE EVENT PRODUCTION

Corporate Event Production in Chevy Chase, MD

Club galas, weddings, fundraisers, and estate events across Chevy Chase, produced end to end. One local team for production, video, and marketing.

OVERVIEW

Chevy Chase gathers differently from anywhere else in the Washington region. This is a residential community of tree-lined streets, large homes, and small incorporated villages just across Western Avenue from the District, and its social calendar runs through two historic private clubs, a landmark rental clubhouse, and private estates. When Chevy Chase hosts, the guest list is senior: executives, officials, foundation leaders, and families who have held these events for generations. Production has to be polished, discreet, and exact.

The settings set the standard. A ballroom wedding at Chevy Chase Club, where events have been held since the club was founded in 1892. A fundraiser on the grounds of Columbia Country Club, home of the 1921 U.S. Open. A garden reception at The Woman's Club of Chevy Chase on Connecticut Avenue. A tented evening at a private home in Chevy Chase Village or the Town of Chevy Chase. Each setting runs on its own rules, and most of them are not written down for outsiders.

LOCAL INSIGHTS

Chevy Chase's event map starts with the private clubs, and the clubs start with sponsorship. At Chevy Chase Club on Connecticut Avenue, events must be hosted or sponsored by a current member. That single fact shapes everything: who can book the Ballroom, the Club Room, the Drawing Room, and the Hunt Room, how the date is secured, and how the club's catering team partners with outside production. Weddings there run to as many as 400 guests, and members and sponsored guests can use the 18 rooms at The Bradley House on site. We work directly with the club, plan load-ins inside the windows it allows, and produce within its rules on dress, vendor access, and setup.

WHY SIMPLE

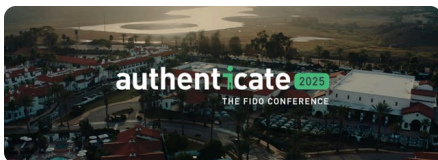

Most production companies meet Chevy Chase on the day of the event. We are based in Washington, DC, minutes away across Western Avenue, and we work in this community's clubs, clubhouses, and private homes as a regular part of our calendar. Our crews, rental relationships, and venue contacts here are working relationships, not first introductions.

That local base matters in a market built on membership and trust. We know that a Chevy Chase Club date starts with a sponsoring member, how a Columbia Country Club banquet runs on club terms, when The Woman's Club allows load-in, and what a garden event in Chevy Chase Village owes its neighbors under the county noise ordinance. We also know how to be discreet. Many events here are private, unlisted, and photographed only for the family or the organization. Our teams work that way by default.

And because events, video, and marketing live under one roof at Simple, your gala's stage design, event film, sizzle reel, and social cuts come from the same team with the same understanding of your goals. No handoffs, no translation loss.

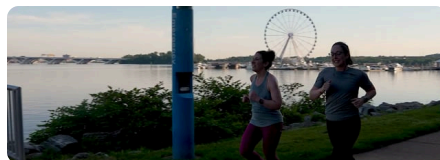

We deliver what we say we will. We treat your budget, timeline, brand, and reputation with care. As we get to know your organization, we become the partner you call first.
