Responsible Dentistry: Advanced Materials and Techniques for the Modern Dental Team

Friday, September 26, 2025

LSU School of Dentistry
1100 Florida Ave
New Orleans, LA

Sign-in & Breakfast: 7:00am-8:00am
Course: 8:00am - 4:00pm
Alumni Reception: 4:00pm-6:00pm

Course Overview

This course is designed for dentists and dental team members seeking to deepen their understanding of both direct and indirect restorative materials in contemporary practice. With rapid advancements in dental materials, treatment planning has evolved to prioritize the conservation of tooth structure and long-term outcomes. Participants will explore how these innovations impact clinical decisions—from diagnosis and material selection to preparation, delivery, and follow-up care. Emphasizing the importance of collaboration, this course highlights the essential role of the entire dental team in ensuring seamless, patient-centered care. Through case discussions and practical strategies, attendees will gain insights into how to optimize workflows and outcomes in a modern restorative setting.

Learning Objectives

- Identify recent advancements in direct and indirect restorative materials and their clinical uses.
- Evaluate the impact of new materials on treatment planning.
- Define each dental team member's role in the restorative workflow.
- Apply evidence-based material selection to optimize function and esthetics.
