COMMENTARY

This month we received a bid for the food ingredients manufacturer Tate & Lyle (TATE) from US competitor, Ingredion. Lyle's Golden Syrup is iconic, but the company has not owned it since 2010, when management sold the sugar business. Ingredion's 615p conditional proposal includes 595p cash (a 59% premium to the undisturbed price) plus the right for shareholders to receive up to 20p of interim and final dividends. TATE's largest shareholder is the privately-owned US industrial conglomerate J.M. Huber at 16.8%. Huber joined the register two years ago when TATE bought Huber's food ingredients business for £905m cash plus 75m shares. With two NEDs on the Board, Huber will be the King-maker or may themselves make a counterbid. The global ingredients sector is consolidating. We bought TATE in November last year with the proceeds from the sale of Treatt – another ingredients supplier that was subject to a takeover (see August 2025 factsheet).

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The investment objective of the Fund is to generate capital growth over the long term by typically investing at least 70% in a concentrated portfolio of UK listed equities. The Fund follows a value philosophy, looking for situations in which investors have over- reacted to events and valuations no longer reflect company fundamentals. The best opportunities are often found after a period of disappointment has created emotional reasons not to invest. Every investment requires a clear catalyst, which impacts on earnings, or the multiple the market applies to those earnings.

FUND MANAGER

Adam Rackley

After working as an analyst at the Alliance Trust, Adam joined Montanaro Asset Management, where he managed a smallcap income fund. Leaving the City in 2010, he taught the CFA qualification at BPP, and later managed equity research teams for CRISIL in Mumbai. In 2015 Adam returned to London and set-up Cape Wrath Capital. He has degrees in Philosophy, Politics & Economics, and Finance & Financial Law, and has served as a platoon commander with the 1st Battalion Black Watch. In his free time, Adam enjoys making marmalade and spending time outdoors with his children. He once took six months off to write a book ('Salt, Sweat, Tears'), and has swum the Channel, rowed the Atlantic, cycled Lands End to John o' Groats and run across England, Scotland and Wales.
