

Support. Resources. Connection. Anytime.

We celebrate Pride Month by standing with the LGBTQ+ community—including employees, family members, and allies. We honor diversity, inclusivity, and the freedom to live openly, proudly, and without judgment.

How You Be an Ally to Your Colleagues

Being an ally means taking intentional, everyday actions that help create a workplace where LGBTQ+ colleagues feel respected, supported, and empowered.

- Listen with openness and empathy
- Use inclusive language and consistently respect names and pronouns
- Educate yourself about LGBTQ+ issues rather than placing the burden on others
- Speak up against bias, discrimination, or harmful language when you see or hear it
- Support inclusive policies, benefits, and workplace practices
- Encourage colleagues to access EAP resources when they may need additional support
- Help foster a culture where everyone feels safe being their authentic selves
