Cost Reduction

Client

A chain of 250+ warehouse-style food and supply stores in the U.S.

Challenge

Unexpected challenges in 2020 required the grocer’s internal team to redirect their attention to areas that suddenly required increased support. With this shift in focus, they recognized the need for outside help to reduce costs.

Solution

The director of strategic sourcing saw the partnership with SIB as an opportunity to offset the unplanned costs the grocery chain encountered during the pandemic and reinvest back into the company’s future. As a result of the engagement, the chain enhanced its cost control efforts by realizing savings in unexpected spend areas. They credit SIB with helping them to discover and realize savings in areas they could not achieve on their own.

Testimonial

“One of the rewards of partnering with SIB was how easy they made the onboarding process. They worked with the information we had on hand and in the format that we kept it. They didn’t require us to fill out any fancy templates or provide years and years of history to get started.

The SIB team was always accessible and provided same-day responsiveness. Finally, which I really appreciated, is that they made the contract review very customer-first.”
