

TONY LUNE: CO-FOUNDER, PROPERTY PROFESSIONAL & MINDSET ENTHUSIAST

Tony is one of the two founders and owners behind Three2Six - a growing business. With a strong passion for the property market and a genuine love for working with people, Tony brings a unique combination of experience, energy, and empathy to everything he does.

His journey in property began with a desire not just to build a successful business, but to create lasting impact - helping clients make informed decisions, grow their portfolios, and build a resilient future. Tony believes that success in property is about more than numbers; it's about people, relationships, and mindset.

Outside the world of business, Tony is committed to personal growth and wellbeing. He has a deep interest in spirituality, mindfulness, and self-development, which he incorporates into both his work and daily life. He also thrives on physical challenges that test discipline and resilience and as a most recent testament to this, Tony recently returned from a HYROX fitness event in Berlin—an experience that left him feeling recharged and ready to bring fresh focus to his work with clients.

Whether you're navigating property investments, personal development, or both, Tony is someone who understands the journey and is here to support you every step of the way.

If you're ready to work with Tony and the wider team, we'd love to hear from you. Please reach out using the contact details below:

