

JAYSON MAVER: FROM PERTH TO PROPERTY POWERHOUSE - THE GLOBAL STORY BEHIND THREE²SIX REAL ESTATE

Meet Jayson Maver: calm, confident, and unmistakably Aussie. But don't let the laid-back charm fool you - behind it lies a career built on grit, global experience, and an unwavering commitment to doing property the right way. As one half of the powerhouse duo behind Three2Six Real Estate Agents, Jayson has helped reshape what integrity, service, and results look like in Birmingham's fast-paced property market.

Jayson's journey began in Perth, Western Australia, where he spent his early career immersed in advertising, design, construction, and landscape project management. Those first 19 years honed his precision, creativity, and attention to detail - foundations that now shape his strategic edge in real estate.

His next stop? Dubai - one of the world's most electric property markets. It was there Jayson dove head-first into off-plan sales, resales, and lettings. The city sharpened his negotiation skills, deepened his global property insight, and laid the foundation for what would become a career-defining move to the UK.

Relocating to the West Midlands, Jayson gained vital local experience working with one of the UK's largest corporate agencies. But his entrepreneurial spirit was already stirring. When he met Tony Lune, the vision for Three2Six Real Estate Agents was born: a bold, no-nonsense agency offering landlords, investors, and tenants real results, transparency, and the kind of service rarely seen in the industry.

Since launch, Three2Six has gone from strength to strength - growing steadily through trust, consistency, and a deep understanding of both people and property. Jayson's global lens, design instinct, and analytical mindset make him a stand-out operator. Whether managing an investment portfolio or selling a high-end apartment, his approach is thoughtful, hands-on, and always client-first.

A true relationship builder, Jayson isn't in it for the quick win. Clients come back because he listens, delivers, and genuinely cares. That commitment to service also extends into his role as a Partner at Fine & Country, where he's spent the past five years specialising in premium homes and country estates across the West Midlands.

From Perth to Dubai to Birmingham, Jayson Maver's journey is one of bold moves, expert execution, and a relentless drive to raise the standard. And with Three2Six entering its next chapter, one thing's clear: he's just getting started.
