

Soul & Law – Volunteer Handbook

Soul & Law is a volunteer-based collective that brings together people who believe that law can be human and stories can be a form of understanding and healing. We see our work as a dialogue - between reason and emotion, between law and life.

Volunteer Roles

Volunteers may contribute in many ways, such as:

- editorial or translation support,
- research and source gathering,
- design, web, and communications,
- organizing interviews, discussions, or media projects.

Collaboration Principles

- Participation is fully voluntary and unpaid.
- There is no hierarchy; decisions are made collaboratively.
- Everyone's contribution is recognized.
- Respect, transparency, and kindness are our foundation.

Ethical Standards

- Respect privacy and confidentiality.
- Soul & Law does not provide legal or psychological services.
- Communicate with empathy, especially when dealing with sensitive topics.

Conflict Resolution

Disagreements are resolved through open dialogue and mutual understanding. We favor empathy and cooperation over formal rules or structures.

Acknowledgment

By participating, you acknowledge that Soul & Law is a non-commercial, independent initiative based on voluntary collaboration and mutual respect, with no financial or employment obligations.
