

LIVING OUR MISSION

A has been participating in Music Therapy with his music instructor for over ten years, and during this time has learned to read music and play the piano with assistance.

A's music instructor has created an innovative way for A to read the music by placing various textures on the piano keys which highlight the different notes, and those same textures are placed on the music sheets. A rubs the texture note with his left hand and locates the note on the piano keys with his right hand.

A has learned how to play many songs including Happy Birthday, and continues to increase his repertoire. Being a pianist is a socially valued role that A holds.

enjoy

