The World Commodity Forum (WCF) 2025 is the most influential cross-sector gathering in the global commodities calendar - uniting leaders from agriculture, energy, metals and finance in one high-impact platform.

Organized by Tefla's, with over three decades of experience behind market-defining events like Globoil and the Sugar Summit, WCF blends legacy with forward-looking strategy.

In Geneva - the neutral capital of global trade - WCF 2025 delivers a multi-track powerhouse of insights, market intelligence and networking. With five focused dialogue tracks running in parallel, participants can move seamlessly between sectors, gaining a 360° view of the commodity ecosystem and unlocking opportunities that rarely converge in a single event.

Why Attend

1. Market Intelligence That Moves the Needle

Get the insider forecasts and data-driven insights you need for 2025 - 26. From edible oils and grains to energy and critical minerals, sessions cover supply, demand, pricing and policy shifts that will directly affect your margins.

2. Cross-Sector Advantage

The commodity world is interconnected like never before. WCF breaks the silos - giving you perspectives from adjacent markets that influence your own. Learn how energy markets affect agriculture, how finance is shaping metals trade and how geopolitics cuts across all sectors.

3. Sustainability as Strategy

From deforestation-free supply chains to ESG-linked finance, WCF delivers practical frameworks to stay compliant and turn sustainability commitments into competitive advantage.

4. Technology That Gives You an Edge

Discover AI-driven trading analytics, blockchain traceability, agri-tech breakthroughs and next-gen energy storage in the WCF boutique exhibition.

5. The Ultimate Deal-Making Platform

WCF is built for business. Meet CEOs, ministers, traders, investors and innovators in an environment designed for transactions. From private deal rooms to sector-focused receptions, every conversation is an opportunity to secure contracts, form partnerships or explore new markets.
