THE KOOYONG FOUNDATION

The Foundation exists to provide positive, practical support for talented young tennis players and prepare them to become the leaders of tomorrow.

The primary goal is to help players achieve their tennis potential and to use education and personal development to assist them on their life journey. Players from all around Australia have been assisted through the provision of training and competition opportunities, scholarship support for secondary schooling, scholarships at US Colleges, travel support, and continued career guidance and support.

We actively seek to help disadvantaged players and contribute regularly to the Goolagong Foundation that have similar values to ours working with indigenous players from all over Australia. In the years since the Foundation was formed, it has raised over $3million and has supported over 400 players.

There are currently 80 plus players being supported by the Foundation and the aim is to increase further support to the program into the future. Teaching players gratitude and empathy, respect, funding public speaking courses and promoting knowledge of nutrition and health are just some of our goals, and you can help.
