How Kensite Supports PAL Hire with Reliable Welfare Solutions for a Major Solar Farm in Wales

www.palhire.co.uk

WHERE THERE'S A SITE, THERE'S KENSITE

Across the North West, North Wales and beyond, Kensite provides welfare that works —supporting projects that power progress.

When PAL Hire reached out to us to supply welfare, storage, and toilet facilities for a solar farm development in Wales, we were more than happy to oblige. Partnership is at the heart of what we do. While we work directly with many contractors, we also collaborate with companies like PAL Hire who share our standards, our values, and our appetite to do the right thing.

Founded in 2006 as a family-run skip hire business in Manchester, PAL Hire has grown into one of the UK's go-to partners for complete site set-up and equipment hire.

Their nationwide network and one-stop approach align closely with our own, making this a natural partnership built on reliability and shared commitment to quality.

WELFARE BUILT FOR THE JOB

The Wrexham solar project is a short-term but high-output build, requiring welfare that performs under pressure.

With more than 20,000 panels to be installed on site, each delivered by pallet and lifted into position by hand, the site team needed reliable facilities that made daily operations smoother and more comfortable.

Our solution included:

- Modern, flat-sided welfare cabins with windows
- 2+1 toilet facilities
- Secure storage and canteen space
- On-site office units
- Water containers with responsive off-hire support

COMFORT, RELIABILITY, AND SERVICE THAT COUNTS

II

Site Manager Vincenzo said:

This site will be here for around three months. Once the structures are built, the panels arrive on pallets and everything is distributed and lifted by hand. We'll have around 20,000 panels installed here. It's a busy, important project.

The welfare is comfortable, clean and looks new. I came from another site with different cabins, but these are really good. Everything is fine here, and we're really, really happy.

The Kensite units were installed quickly and serviced efficiently, ensuring the site team could focus fully on the job. Our welfare facilities provided the comfortable, professional environment needed for long days on a demanding site - an essential part of keeping productivity and morale high.

PARTNERSHIP THAT DELIVERS

For Kensite, this project marked the start of a new working relationship with PAL Hire and one that reflects our shared approach to service and standards.

Nick Arnold, Strategic Partnerships Manager at Kensite, said:

This was our first major project working alongside PAL Hire, and it's been a great success. They share our commitment to doing things properly; delivering quality, safely, and on time.

Whether it's a housing development or a renewable energy site, welfare matters.

Our job is to make sure site teams have modern, reliable facilities from day one. That's what this partnership is all about - doing the right thing and delivering for our clients.

SUPPORTING A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

Kensite is proud to play a small but essential role in projects that contribute to a cleaner, more sustainable future.

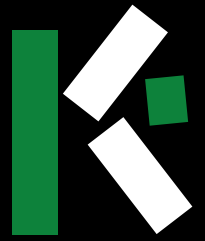

Renewable energy developments like this solar farm in Wales represent the next chapter of the UK's construction landscape and we're committed to supporting that transition through modern, energy-efficient welfare solutions.

As part of our ESG commitment, we continue to invest in sustainable operations, from low-energy cabin technology to responsible waste and water management across every site we serve.

At Kensite, we believe great welfare supports great work and that includes the work of building a more sustainable future, that's why on this job we deployed our Carbon Lite range. This offers a higher standard of site accommodation that tougher than your average 'basic' unit and designed to get the job done.

Because where there's a site, there's Kensite.
