

Notice predictions, self-focus and safety behaviours

Choose one social situation. Record what you predicted, where attention went, what you did to feel safer and what the outcome actually showed.

[illegible]

A small experiment for next time

What will I look outward towards? Which safety behaviour might I reduce gently? What would be a realistic compassionate aim?

A small experiment for next time

What will I look outward towards? Which safety behaviour might I reduce gently? What would be a realistic compassionate aim?
