- Deep red color, exceptional fruit quality, and high flavor. Its organoleptic properties make it highly valued by consumers and in export markets;
- Vigorous yet well-balanced plant with medium to short internodes;
- Superior fruit quality in terms of color, shelf life, green parts retention, and flavor stability throughout the cycle;
- Long, elegant clusters with highly uniform fruits in size and shape;
- Well-suited for late August to mid-September transplants and adaptable to all growing conditions;
- High soluble sugar content (>7.5 Brix°), delivering excellent flavor.
