

Our numbers are growing.

我们的人数不断的正在增长

There are more of us, more neighborhoods with people who look like us, share our cultures, and share our values.

That's all true. So why does it feel like no one sees what we see?

If we're growing, why do so many of us feel left out?

There's something we can do to change all of this.

If we participate in public life, in the civic life of our state, decision makers will make a very wise decision—they will pay much more attention to us.

If we don't show up, why should they show up for us?

To be counted, we must show up. Make our growing numbers count.

若要被重视，我们必须投票。让我们不断增长的数字发挥作用
