

Celero Ventures: Job description for the role of Associate Analyst

Do you want to become part of the AI revolution with one of the most exciting VCs in Europe?

In this role, the successful candidate will have the opportunity to work with uniquely experienced venture capitalists and other investment professionals to identify and evaluate potential technology investments in innovative startups and new cutting edge AI technologies. We expect our associate analysts to use their financial analysis, market research, and business development skills to assess the viability and growth potential of these companies, and support the investment decisions of the firm. Jersey residency for 5 years is a requirement.

Associate Analyst job description (location: Jersey, C.I)

Are you passionate about startups and new technologies, and ready to take your career to the next level? If so, a job as a venture capital analyst may be the perfect fit for you. At Celero Ventures based in both Jersey and London, we are always looking for talented and driven individuals to join our team.

In this role, you will have the opportunity to work with a talented, focused team of venture capitalists and other investment professionals to identify and evaluate potential investments in new companies. You will use your financial analysis, market research, and business development skills to assess the viability and growth potential of new startups, and support the investment decisions of the firm. With the right combination of hard and soft skills, you can be an integral part of driving the success of our portfolio companies and identifying new investment opportunities.

If you have a bachelor's degree in a relevant field (with finance and business within the syllabus) and at least 2 years of experience in a financial services role, we encourage you to apply for this exciting opportunity. Experience in finance, investment banking, management consulting, or product management is a plus. We are looking for candidates with strong financial analysis and financial modelling skills, as well as excellent communication and interpersonal skills. The ability to think creatively and strategically, and work well in a team, is also important.

The successful candidate will have the opportunity to work on a wide range of investment opportunities, with early-stage startups through to rapidly scaling growth companies, and to be a part of driving the success of our portfolio companies.

If you are interested in joining our team, please review the job description below and apply through our info@celeroventures.com. We can't wait to review your application and see how you could be a valuable addition to our team. Don't miss this exciting opportunity to find and support the next generation of game-changing companies.

Celero Ventures: Job description for the role of Associate Analyst

About the firm:

Celero Ventures was created on the premise that we can help founders build amazing companies 10x faster.

We do this because we are real people providing real help, not just money. We have great LPs, we can get money but we have the scars and experience, from being operators, and quite simply love building great companies. We've done it a few times and want to do it again and again with awesome founders who want to make a difference in the world.

We are building a strong track record of investing in innovative startups and new technologies. We are committed to supporting the growth and success of our portfolio companies, and are always on the lookout for new investment opportunities. As a member of our team, you will have the opportunity to work with some of the brightest minds in the industry and be a part of driving the success of our portfolio companies.

About the team:

Our investment team is made up of experienced venture capitalists and ex-operator/founders who are passionate about finding and supporting the next generation of game-changing companies. We value collaboration and critical thinking about how we can identify, harness and develop the next wave of exceptional talent into truly outstanding and successful tech founders

Responsibilities:

- Assist across all stages of deal execution from sourcing of new deals, preparation of investment memos and other due diligence, through to reporting existing successful exit opportunities to Limited Partners (LPs)
- Identify and evaluate potential investments in innovative startups and new technologies
- Use financial models and market research to assess the viability and growth potential of companies
- Work with portfolio companies to help drive their success and identify new investment opportunities
- Support the investment decisions of the firm through financial modeling and business development
- Build relationships with entrepreneurs and other industry professionals
- Help develop events, reporting and investor PR activities

Celero Ventures: Job description for the role of Associate Analyst

Minimum skills and qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree in a relevant field (with finance and business within the syllabus)
- 2+ years of experience in a similar role, ideally at a venture capital firm, investment manager or banking, private equity, or a startup
- 5 years residency in Jersey required

Preferred skills and qualifications:

- Degree from a good university
- Experience in finance and business
- Strong financial analysis and financial modeling skills
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills
- Ability to work well in a team and think creatively and strategically
- Experience in product management and startups is a plus

Hiring process:

- Initial screen: This will be a brief conversation to discuss your background and experience, and to ensure that you meet the minimum qualifications for the role.
- Case study and/or technical assessment: We'll ask you to outline a potential investment and why you think we should invest. You should be able to demonstrate your ability to interpret existing financial data and use it to make predictions. Don't worry too much if you don't have exact information, we're looking at your quality of thought.
- In-person interviews with a member of the team: If you are selected, you will be invited to participate in in-person interviews with a member of the team who will assess relative skills.
- Final round interview with each of the GPs: If you are a strong candidate, you will be invited to participate in a final round interview with the general partners of the firm. This will be an opportunity for you to learn more about the company's strategy and culture, and for the general partners to get to know you better.
