DIGITAL DESIGN AND INNOVATION, STUDENT

I am a solution-oriented, attentive, and analytical student in Digital Design and Innovation at Halmstad University. With a strong interest in UX design and service design, I am driven to create meaningful and user-friendly digital experiences. I strive to develop my ability to understand people's needs and translate insights into smart, empathetic design solutions by testing ideas, exploring opportunities, and collaborating with like-minded individuals

EDUCATION

HALMSTAD UNIVERSITY

02/09/2023 - Now

At Halmstad University I am given many opportunities to create innovative and value-creating digital services and products, with the human relationship to technology at the center. I learn to develop smart and sustainable solutions in a rapidly changing world.

PROJECTS

LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT SUPPORT

Service Design Project

Service design was used to examine the need of support amongst the university's leadership and managers, and whether the support currently offered is adequate. During the project, I conducted several interviews and observations, and analyzed the findings to contribute to long-term organizational development.

INNOVASTART

UX Design Project

The design process was used to conduct research on the company's target audience, goals, value creation, along with the website's information architecture and user-friendliness. The project resulted in design proposals for the online service, both for desktop and mobile-optimized versions.
