Transit Union Leader Sounds the Alarm on NYC Primary Results

“Yesterday, New Yorkers watched as three far-left, anti-American candidates won Democratic primary races. Their vision for New York is one of bigger government, higher taxes, reckless spending, and policies that threaten the economic future of working families.

If Kathy Hochul is re-elected Governor, New York will continue down this dangerous path. Time and again, Governor Hochul has failed to stand up to the radical wing of her party and lacks the guts and leadership necessary to stop the growing influence of socialist policies that put political agendas ahead of hardworking taxpayers and retirees.

New Yorkers have worked too hard and sacrificed too much to see their pension funds and tax dollars diverted to political pet projects while public safety, affordability, and quality of life continue to decline.

There is only one candidate with the courage, experience, and determination to stop the radical left's takeover of New York and put our state back on the right track, and that's Bruce Blakeman.

If you want to live in a Communist/Socialist state then you vote for Kathy Hochul.

If you love America, and don't want to see New York turn into a third world, hell hole, cesspool, then you will vote for Bruce Blakeman in November as the stop gap to this madness,” Philip Valenti, President of TWU Local 106 Transit Supervisors Organization, said.
