Long Islanders Woke Up To Chaos Because Kathy Hochul Failed

“Hundreds of thousands of Long Islanders woke up to chaos because Kathy Hochul failed to do her job. This strike didn’t come out of nowhere — Hochul knew this deadline was coming and still allowed commuters, small businesses, nurses, teachers, and tourists to become collateral damage. Hochul can’t pass a budget on time, can’t keep the trains running, and cares more about bailing out Zohran Mamdani than the commuters stranded on platforms. Hands down, Hochul is the worst governor in America,” Nassau County Executive and candidate for Governor of New York Bruce Blakeman said, slamming Kathy Hochul for her total lack of leadership as the Long Island Rail Road (LIRR) strike could cripple the region’s economy.
