Kathy Hochul Surrendered New York to Violent Gangs

“When a 12-year-old child gets gunned down in broad daylight, there is no middle ground left. Kathy Hochul has surrendered New York to violent gangs who use her ‘Raise the Age’ law and Cashless Bail policies every single day to terrorize the public, run gun violence through our streets, and walk out of jail without consequences. To top it off, Hochul gave Mamdani a $5.1 billion bailout of your money, while completely starving the NYPD of the resources they need to keep our children safe. Gangs are running the blocks, our kids are dodging bullets, and Hochul is bankrolling the disaster. It is an unforgivable disgrace, and under my administration, it ends on day one,” Nassau County Executive and candidate for Governor Bruce Blakeman said in response to the horrific Bronx shooting that left the 12-year-old son of a retired NYPD Sergeant dead.
