

AUCTION BROCHURE

FEM CAPITAL SALON

21 March, Dartmouth House

CHARITY PARTNER

She is twenty-three years old, halfway through a degree in Applied Medical Science, and already employed. When AMREF Health Africa, formerly the Flying Doctors, advertised for healthcare workers to join a programme delivering maternal care and disease prevention in some of Kenya's most remote communities, Magdaline wrote a motivation letter. She was still eighteen months from graduating. Her letter made an impression. She was invited to present it in person. She was offered a position, with a permanent contract awaiting her upon completion of her degree, which she now pursues through evening study alongside her work.

Not long ago, Magdaline was a secondary school student whose family could not have afforded to keep her in education without support. Stichting Wenzl provided that support, not as emergency aid, but as a sustained, shared investment. Under Wenzl's model, families contribute half the cost of schooling, while the foundation covers the other half. It is a partnership built on dignity, trust, and mutual commitment. There are no interruptions. No gaps caused by lack of funds. Just the steady, quiet conditions in which potential becomes achievement.

Magdaline graduated from secondary school with outstanding marks. She earned a scholarship for university. And she is now building a career that will bring better healthcare to mothers and newborns in communities where too many are still lost.

This is what long-term investment looks like. Not a single moment of relief, but a trajectory, visible, measurable, and lasting.

For more than twenty years, Wenzl's work on the ground in Kenya has been led by Willie Koetsier, who has built trusted relationships within local communities guided by the conviction that education is the most powerful catalyst for dignity and opportunity. Her sister, Christine Koetsier, founder of Fem Capital Salon, carries that same belief into everything the Salon represents.

Auction proceeds from tonight's event will benefit Stichting Wenzl.

Black marble composite, 25 × 20 cm

COMRADE KIDS

ONE BID, ONE KID, ONE FUTURE SHAPED DIFFERENTLY

1Bid: 65 GBP per kid | Multiple bids welcome

Justus Mulwa grew up in Manda, on the southern coast of Kenya. With the support of Stichting Elimu Holland, he trained as a youth worker and returned to his community with a single conviction: that every child deserves the chance to discover what they are capable of. In founding Comrade Kids, he created exactly that chance.

Known locally as the 'weekend school', Comrade Kids brings together a dedicated group of children each week for workshops in arts, music, dance, video production, computer skills, and leadership. Once a year, the programme hosts a bootcamp where older participants take on mentoring roles, guiding younger children through days of teambuilding, creative expression, and life skills. It is a place where talent is recognised, nurtured, and given room to grow.

This lot is not a single auction item. It is an open invitation. For 65 GBP, you sponsor one child's participation in the programme. You may bid as many times as you wish, and every bid sponsors another child. It is the simplest equation of the evening: one bid, one child, one opportunity.
