

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

A new innovation in small aluminum trailers has been developed by Alum-Line, Inc. of Cresco, Iowa. The new model is called "Dual-Line" and is so named because it can be used as a livestock hauler or by removing the top, it can be used as a utility trailer.

This trailer has been specifically designed for the small animal producer such as hogs, sheep, goats or exotic animals who would also like a second trailer for hauling fencing supplies, a lawn mower, firewood, or any other needs up to 4000 pound capacity.

Standard features include all aluminum construction, seal beam lights, rubber torsion axles, brakes on all axles, castor wheel jack and a full swing center gate that doubles as a utility ramp. Sizes range from 5' x 8' up to 6' x 14'.

Alum-Line is an industry leader in the design and manufacturing of all-aluminum products including trailers, truck bodies, and tool boxes for over 20 years. For more information contact Alum-Line, Inc., at 800-446-1407 or P.O. Box 59, Cresco, IA 52136 or visit their website at www.alumline.com.
