

Propane Tank Body by

All aluminum bodies by Alum-Line are still finding many new uses. Pictured is a Propane Tank Body utilizing a front crane and rear lift gate. The body has added toolboxes above and below for equipment and tool storage. The corrugated side panels are permanent with E-track installed to secure tanks. Other features include smooth materials on the boxes and skirting, which can be painted. A 2" x 2" tube bulkhead with mesh window and standard diamond plate floor and light package.

For more information contact Alum-Line, Inc.
800-446-1407
Or visit our website
www.alum-line.com