

Earn While You Learn Research Creating pathways to employment

The Earn While You Learn (EWYL) Research project will identify, categorise and assess current EWYL models, including the features, usage, benefits and risks of each.

We will then identify the most promising models for the care and support sectors to address areas of critical skills and occupation gaps, especially in regional and remote areas.

Benefits of being involved

Your input is important and will:

- help implement a more sustainable training model(s)
- reduce future workforce shortages
- inform the use of EWYL models in the care and support sectors
- provide insight into workforce issues and opportunities.
