Font Styling

Maintain a consistent look.

Top Choice Organics uses Cortado as a titling typeface. Cortado is an energetic take on the pointed-brush style. It's fun, easy to read personality fits well with various types of printed display. The typeface also works well for website use.

When writing content, use Tahoma as your typeface whenever possible. Tahoma is a humanist sans-serif typeface that was created specifically to address the challenges of on-screen display. If Tahoma is not an option for use, substitute the Arial typeface instead.

Our company tagline uses Passion One, but we also display it with Cortado and Verdana on occasion.

Product Development

Package Foundation

Differentiate the brand.

Unique packaging is crucial for the proper promotion of our medicinal cannabis products to the end consumer. Our initial design foundation will place our colorful retro scheme on top of glossy black or gold containers.

A premium look and feel shall enforce the quality of our farm in our initial product launch.

Onto the top shelf.

Medicinal cannabis that tastes as good as it looks.

Properly branded packaging will only solidify our premium product.

Labeling Requirements

Use standards for a reason.

You must appropriately label our products for sale in California. One way to ensure a positive outcome is to meet all state labeling regulations, so there are no delays in product distribution once the product is ready.

Consumers have a right to know.

Create superior customers through clear information.

Certain standards must apply when packaging cannabis product.

Please Do:

- Display information clearly and legibly
- Make sure labeling information is on the outer layer of packaging
- Use English and at least 6 point font

Please Do Not:

- California county names—Can not include the name of a California county anywhere on the label unless 100% of the Cannabis in the product originated from there.

 - Cannot include false or misleading information—This includes anything untrue or unproven, or information that leads consumers to have an inaccurate impression.
 - Cannot make unproven health claims—Health-related statements, such as claims about a product’s ability to treat or cure disease, may not be made unless there is significant scientific agreement and totality of publicly-available peer-reviewed evidence supports the claims. Anecdotal information and preliminary study results do not meet these criteria.

Legal Overview

The Law

That you should know.

In November 2017 California passed Proposition 64, the Adult Use of Marijuana Act (AUMA), in which 56 percent of voters expressed a desire to legalize marijuana use for adults 21 and over. Our farm was one of the first applicants in California for legal cannabis production.

Top Choice Organics strives to be a leader in compliance, and maintaining a legal license is crucial to the success of our business.

Playing by the rules.

Legal cannabis production results in a more consistent product.

The entities below are California's three state cannabis licensing authorities, and their websites contain the majority of cannabis legalities.

The Bureau of Cannabis Control (Bureau) is the lead agency in regulating commercial cannabis licenses for medical and adult-use cannabis in California. The Bureau is responsible for licensing retailers, distributors, testing labs, micro-businesses, and temporary cannabis events.

The Manufactured Cannabis Safety Branch, a division of the California Department of Public Health (CDPH), is responsible for regulating and licensing the manufacturers of cannabis-infused edibles for both medical and non-medical use.
<https://www.cdph.ca.gov/>

CalCannabis Cultivation Licensing, a division of the California Department of Food and Agriculture (CDFA), is responsible for licensing cultivators of medicinal and adult-use (recreational) cannabis and implementing a track-and-trace system to record the movement of cannabis through the distribution chain.
