Scale Where It Counts.

DOSS

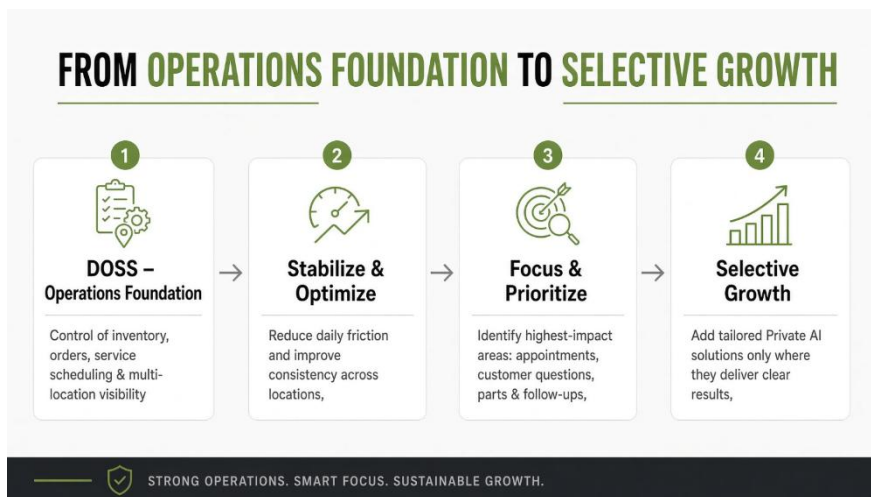

Your simple operations starting point

DOSS is a practical system that works the way your business already runs.

It gives you better control of inventory, orders, purchasing, and daily work — without forcing you to change everything.

This is the foundation we put in place before any AI is added.

Once that solid base exists, we selectively develop tailored private AI solutions only where they will deliver the biggest results.

Why do most big systems and AI projects stall?

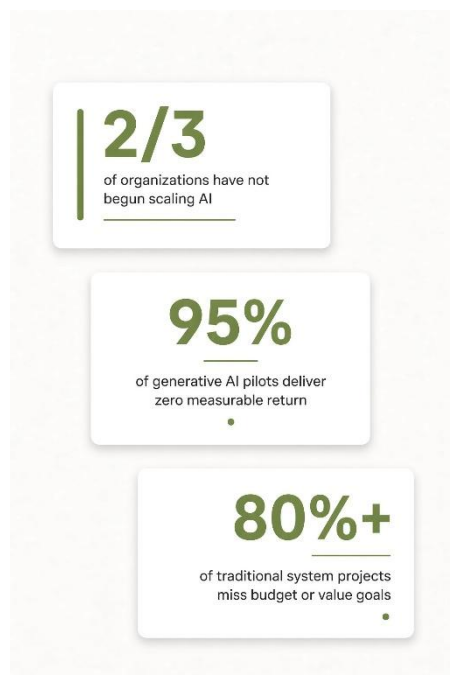

You already know the daily friction:

Spreadsheets and rigid software force your team to work around the system. Adding AI often feels expensive, risky with your data, or like another project that will drag on for months.

You are not alone.

- Nearly two-thirds of organizations have not begun scaling AI across the business.
- 95% of generative AI pilots deliver zero measurable return.
- More than 80% of traditional ERP projects miss their budget, timeline, or value goals.

The difference that changes the odds. Companies that start with a clean operations foundation (DOSS) and then apply tailored private AI only at the highest-impact points are far more likely to turn investment into real results — often seeing about 20% more profit from day-to-day operations and roughly $3 returned for every $1 spent.

A simple path that starts where you need help and grows from there

Step 1 – DOSS: The Foundation

Start with DOSS, an adaptable operations platform that fits how you actually work. This gives you the basic help and clean data you need right away — before AI is added.

Step 2 – Tailored AI Solutions

Once the foundation is solid, we selectively apply tailored private AI only at the highest-impact points — so you see real results without boiling the ocean.

Step 3 – Confidently Scale

As results appear, you choose where to grow next. You stay fully in control of the pace, your data, and all future opportunities.

This is how busy leaders finally get practical help without betting the company on a massive project.

Franchises/Dealers Operations

Start with DOSS for better inventory, scheduling, and multi-location control.

Then add tailored private AI solutions where it reduces daily friction the most.

Healthcare Providers/Facilities

Start with DOSS to organize scheduling, referrals & records.

Then apply private AI to patient communication and follow-ups - while keeping your data fully protected.

Airports, Logistics & Delivery Ops

Start with DOSS for real-time visibility and consolidated information.

Then use private AI to reduce delays and improve coordination across teams.

At soolisAI we specialize in beating the odds

- Start simple with DOSS.
- Add tailored private AI only where it counts.
- Expand when you're ready.
- No big commitment required.

Just a clear conversation about where to start.
