Perspective

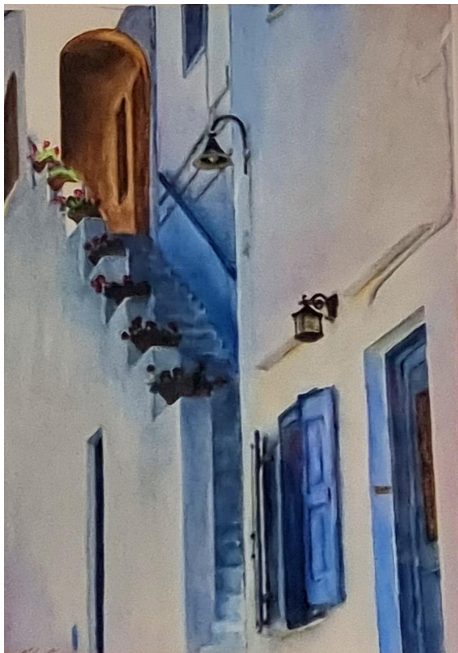

Perspective

Perspective is a way of creating the illusion of space, depth and scale in an artwork. It gives objects the appearance of receding into the distance, creating a realistic representation. Perspective can be achieved by manipulating the size and placement of objects within an image to create a sense of three-dimensional space. This enhances viewer engagement by drawing them into the painting, creating a more immersive experience.

April 2026 - Value

Value in art refers to how light or dark a color appears. It is essential for creating the illusion of light, shadow, depth, and volume in an artwork. Every color has an inherent value that fits along a scale from white (lightest) to black (darkest), regardless of hue or saturation. Understanding value helps strengthen composition and mood within a painting.
