

Unlock Faster, Smarter Fulfillment

Where Innovation Meets Operations

Pattern's 14 global warehouses don't just move products—they move brands forward. By perfecting scalable systems and streamlining decision-making, our warehouse tech ensures your products are prepped, shipped, and delivered with unmatched speed and care.

What Makes Our Warehouse Tech Stand Out?

Scalability Without the Stress

Our proprietary Warehouse Management Software (WMS) and Order Management Software (OMS) eliminate guesswork. Built on billions of data points, these tools create rock-solid lead-time targets to keep your stock levels high and your headaches low.

ASAP Speed, Zero Compromises

Flow-based (not batch) cross-dock systems ensure your products are received and shipped quickly—with minimal storage. By using a rigorous First In, First Out (FIFO) process, we're ready to handle "rush order" requests whenever you need.

Accuracy That Wows (>99% of the Time)

Small mistakes can cause big delays. Our tech guides warehouse associates step-by-step through picking, packing, and labeling, drastically reducing errors and defects.

Automation That Thinks Ahead

From check-in to shipping, automation rules. Labels are generated at lightning speed, while our API seamlessly integrates with Amazon's Seller Central to analyze shipping options and carriers, optimizing every step—all within milliseconds.

Precision in Every Package

Vision tunnel technology scans, weighs, and measures cartons from every angle—capturing five-dimensional data signals at multiple checkpoints along the way. These signals track carton status and location in real-time, ensuring precise measurements, consistent quality, and a seamless path to scalability.

Sorting at Supersonic Speed

Our sorters turn efficiency into an art form. In our Hebron warehouse, the Pop Up Divert Sorter handles up to 60 cartons per minute (CPM), while our Las Vegas warehouse takes it to the next level with the Shoe Pin Sorter, capable of sorting over 225 CPM. That's nearly 4X faster than industry standards, ensuring your products move quickly and accurately to their destinations.
