3. How Does Our Site Use Cookies?

All Cookies used by and on Our Site are used in accordance with current 2026 Cookie Law. We categorise our cookies as follows:

1. Strictly Necessary Cookies: Essential for the operation of Our Site (e.g., logging in, shopping baskets, and security). These do not require your prior consent.

2. Statistical Cookies (2025 UK Reform): Used to understand how you navigate our site. Under the Data (Use and Access) Act 2025, we use these to improve site performance. You can opt-out, but they are active by default as they are considered "low-risk" analytics.
3. Functionality/Preference Cookies: These remember your choices (like your preferred language) to provide a personalised experience.
4. Targeting/Marketing Cookies: These track your visits to make advertising more relevant to your interests. These are only enabled if you click "Accept" or "Opt-in" on our cookie banner.

4. What Cookies Does Our Site Use?

Our site uses cookies grouped into the following functional categories:

Necessary Site Functionality These cookies are essential for our website to work correctly. They manage your shopping cart, remember if you are logged in, allow for faster page loading, and secure our contact forms from spam. Without these, the store and customer account features would not function.

Website Performance and Analytics We use cookies from partners like Google Analytics and Gatorleads to see how visitors move around our site and which companies are interested in our services. This data is used to improve our website layout and ensure we are providing the right information to our business customers.

User Experience and Tools These cookies enable helpful features on our site, such as the ability to translate our pages into different languages via Google Translate or to share our content on your social media profiles.

Marketing and Engagement We use cookies to manage our contact forms and email marketing through MailChimp. These help us ensure that if you request information from us, it is delivered effectively.

5. Consent and Control

5.1 When you first visit Our Site, a pop-up prompt will ask for your consent to use non-essential Cookies. By clicking "Accept All," you consent to all cookies. By clicking "Settings," you can choose to enable or disable specific categories (e.g., Marketing).

5.2 Withdrawing Consent: You can change your mind at any time. Please click the "Cookie Settings" link in our website footer to update your preferences.

5.3 Browser Controls: You can also block cookies via your web browser. Links to instructions for modern browsers are provided below:
