Jackson Boxer's life an erudite study on food, from literature to restaurants. His grandmother, the inimitable Arabella Boxer, was at the heart of British food writing for decades. His father Charlie is the owner of Italo Deli, a rather wonderful ode to Italian fare, tucked away in Bonnington Square. And of course, his brother Frank is the brains behind Frank's Café.

From a childhood spent in the kitchen, to a life making a career out of incredible cooking, Jackson worked for the likes of Margot Henderson during his formative years and then took the helm of Brunswick House, at the ripe age of 24. Since then, Jackson has opened Orasay in Notting Hill and JB at the Corner in Selfridges. At Cowley Manor Experimental, Jackson's weaves local produce with a Gallic nod, using Gloucestershire's finest offerings, and our herbs, fruit and vegetables plucked from our very own garden.

Word from the chef

'I love everything the Experimental Group do, and have always hungered for the chance to put together a really fabulous and unique hotel menu, so when they showed me Cowley Manor I was head over heels.
The opportunity to synthesise the delicious, modern and inventive cooking of our shared London and Paris homes, with the extraordinary produce and Arcadian beauty of the Cotswolds, is one I am absolutely thrilled to accept.'
