CORPORATE INTRODUCTION

Developing the Skills That Will Shape the Future

Your teams come back ready to use what they learned. Many of our programs end with a concrete action plan they can put to work straight away. Our programs are taught by experienced practitioners and researchers, selected for your sector, and can be built around the challenges your team or organization faces.

Our classrooms are places where mistakes become learning, and where new ideas are tested safely. Our values, from building bridges to daring to be different, guide how we teach and lead. That spirit has shaped us since 1987, when we were founded to challenge convention and became the first business school in France to offer an English-language MBA.

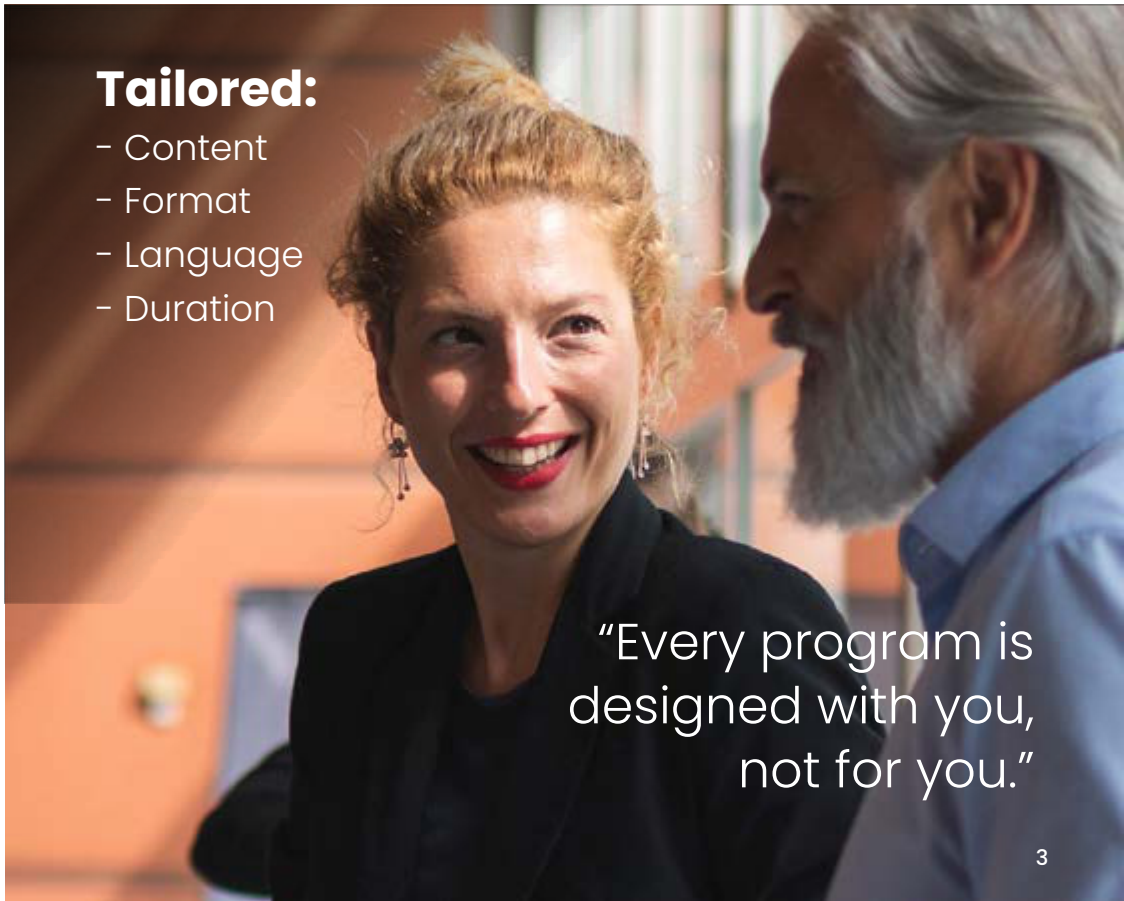

We are human-centric: technology can expand what is possible, but leadership remains deeply human, which is why we stay close to every participant.

EXECUTIVE EDUCATION CATALOG

Each program can be customized in length, depth, and focus to align with your organization's context, priorities, and participant profiles. We deliver training in four formats tailored to your group size and operational needs.

Our team will recommend the optimal setup to achieve your specific goals. If you need to adapt a program or design a custom solution around a specific business challenge, please get in touch. While our programs are typically designed for executives and managers, they can easily be tailored for mixed seniority levels or department-wide rollouts.

Contact us to discuss the best approach for your organization.

AI & Technology

Training designed to help leaders and teams understand, adopt, and leverage AI strategically and responsibly.

Design Your Strategy with AI

Half a day that gives a leadership team first-hand experience of what AI does for its own work, built on doing rather than theory.

It opens with a live demonstration: we solve a strategic problem together, in the room. The second half is practice on your own tasks, or a workshop on next steps.

- Judge and direct AI work with confidence
- Use tested techniques the next morning
- Align on priorities and next steps

Min recommended duration:
Half day (4 hours)

For: Executive committees, leadership teams

Fees: €12 000 – Group Rate

More Details

Become a Super Manager with AI

Half a day in which managers apply AI to their own job: the tasks that take most of their time, and the people they manage.

Participants find their most time-consuming tasks and make them more efficient with AI, then use it to plan projects, prepare reviews and give each team member regular feedback.

- Cut the time spent on time-consuming tasks
- Prepare reviews and feedback with AI
- Lead and motivate each team member

Min recommended duration:
Half day (4 hours)

For: Managers, leadership teams

Fees: €12 000 – Group Rate

More Details

Supercharge Your AI Ambassadors

This program equips your AI ambassadors to build agentic workflows, support colleagues and align on strategy.

Day one: agentic workflows on each ambassador's own work. Day two: live practice at supporting colleagues, then alignment on priorities. Coaching and train-the-trainer extensions available.

- Build agentic workflows on high-priority tasks
- Support colleagues, through live practice
- Align on priorities and next steps

Min recommended duration: 2 days

For: AI ambassadors nominated by their organization, from any function

Fees: €21 500 – Group Rate

More Details

Redesign Your Priority Process with AI

Participants bring their priority process, alone or with their team, and leave two days later with the process redesigned around AI.

Day one: AI interviews each participant to map the process, which they redesign on the spot. Day two: they build AI workflows to carry out the redesign, then share with their peers..

- Map your process with AI
- Use AI to make it more efficient
- Reuse the method on other processes

Min recommended duration: 2 days

For: Process owners and their teams

Fees: €21 000 – Group Rate

More Details

Sales & Commercial Strategy

For sales and marketing teams looking to leverage new technology and build sustainable growth.

Next-Level Research with AI

Tailored for strategy directors and intelligence professionals, this advanced training delivers concrete techniques to embed AI into your research workflows.

Participants build a full research workflow on a live question of their own: they decide the question and method, AI executes, they verify and deliver.

- Accelerate information gathering
- Stress-test outputs before decisions
- Standardize AI-assisted research

Min recommended duration: 2 days

For: Strategy directors, BI leads & analysts

Fees: €24 500 – Group Rate

More Details

Challenge Your View of the Future

Standard corporate strategies rely heavily on past performance data, making organizations blind to rapid market disruptions and slow to adjust to sudden shifts

Grounded in UNESCO's proven methodology, this Futures Literacy Lab forces leadership teams to confront their unconscious biases about tomorrow and replace them with agile foresight.

- Uncover strategic blind spots
- Stress-test existing plans
- Facilitate future-focused thinking

Min recommended duration: 2 days

For: Leadership teams, strategy directors

Fees: €21 000 – Group Rate

More Details

Turn Constraints into Value

Based on the Good Enough Innovation Mindset. This strategic immersion designed to shift our mindsets in the face of constraints and transform the lack of resources into a powerful driver of value.

Drawing on the Indian laboratory (ISRO, JIO, UPI), participants master Good Enough engineering and jugaad thinking, and more importantly learn to transpose them into their European context.

- Spot the opportunity hidden behind a constraint
- Master the 3 founding pillars: start from the real need, simplify radically, mobilize what exists
- Decode disruptive models from the Indian laboratory
- Adapt Good Enough logic to the European regulatory context.

Min recommended duration: 2 days

For: Executives, C-Suite members, innovation, product and strategy leaders

Fees: €24 000 – Group Rate

Deeply Human Series

The Deeply Human Series is grounded in the Mi-SHiFT© vertical human development framework, developing the inner capabilities that shape how people think, relate, and act.

Inner Resilience: Leading with Clarity Under Pressure

When external environments turn unpredictable, leaders often face disruption with yesterday's habits. Rather than adding another toolkit, this program creates space for a mindset shift: moving beyond automatic reactions to align choices around Purpose, Priorities, and Practice.

- Ease mental overload and restore executive discernment
- Examine the perceptual filters shaping decisions under pressure
- Translate inner insights into daily practice to lead and engage teams with calm authority

Min recommended duration: 2 days

For: Team leaders and Professionals carrying high mental load

Fees: €23 000 - Group Rate

More Details

Bold Leadership for Women

Most leadership programs teach women to adapt to existing models. This one does the opposite, helping executive women lead from their true identity, using the proprietary Mi-SHiFT© method tested with 400+ leaders across France and India.

Built around the concept of Sthira Sukha, the balance between firmness and ease, stability and flow. This program combines leadership psychology, neuroscience, and Indian wisdom. Participants leave with a personal roadmap anchored in their identity and real values, not a generic leadership template.

- Distinguish your person from your function to build inner stability
- Map your energy (body, mind, emotions) against your real values
- Overcome your inner critic and take your place with clear alignment
- Translate insights into a concrete 12 and 36-month personal roadmap

Min recommended duration: 2 days

For: Senior executive women: Managers, Directors, and Entrepreneurs

Fees: €17 500 – Group Rate

Decoding India:

From Market Entry to Local Success

India is the world's most populous country, its fastest-growing major economy, and the market most European executives misread. This immersive two-day program is the practical guide to entering, navigating, and building trust in India, backed by 22 years of on-the-ground experience.

Far from a theoretical course, this program is an operational immersion and strategic decoding of the Indian market. Beyond a general understanding, this can be customized to validate market entry, leverage competencies, or enable cultural derisking.

It challenges the assumptions European executives bring; India as a complicated low-cost market or impenetrable bureaucracy and replaces them with a clear-eyed, field-tested picture of an accelerating nation-continent.

- Approach the market with clarity
- Adjust commercial posture
- Defuse cultural risk early
- Apply a success oriented partner-selection framework

Min recommended duration: 2 days

For: Business development & country directors, senior managers

Fees: €20 500 – Group Rate

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

Where can the training be delivered?

Training can be delivered at our Paris campus, at your premises anywhere in France, online, or in a hybrid format. For companies outside the Île-de-France region, a travel fee may apply depending on location. Contact us for a quote.

What languages are available?

All training can be delivered in French or English. For other languages, contact us and we will explore the best available solution.

How far in advance should I book?

We recommend booking at least 2 months in advance to allow time to adapt the content to your context.

Who delivers the training?

Training is delivered by expert practitioners and academics with at least a Master's degree or PhD and 5 years of teaching experience. We select the most relevant profile based on your language, sector, and training needs.

What can be customized?

Content, duration, and language can all be adapted to your organization's needs. We can also integrate your own case studies, sector examples, or internal scenarios.

Is there a needs assessment before booking?

Yes. Before any commitment, we arrange a call to understand your objectives, team profile, and context. A meeting with the assigned trainer can also be arranged on request.

Can a 2-day training be split?

Two-day training must be delivered on consecutive days when in person. For hybrid or online formats, we can adapt the schedule.

Do participants receive a certificate?

Yes. Every participant receives a certificate of completion from École des Ponts Business School.

Is CPF/Qualiopi funding available?

Our training is not eligible for CPF funding. However, École des Ponts Business School holds Qualiopi certification, so your company may be able to use OPCO funding. We recommend checking with your OPCO before booking.

How does the PULSE partnership work?

PULSE partnerships are concluded for one year and may be renewed annually. If you upgrade your tier during the year, you simply pay the difference.

Do participants receive a certificate after completing our trainings?

Yes. Once the training is completed, each participant receives an Executive Certificate from École des Ponts Business School.
