

Fall Army Worms

Adult army worm

Fall army worms have already started migrating our way. Keep an eye out for them. Army worms are quick and can cause complete destruction to a yard in a very short amount of time. Why wait for the damage to occur and have to treat when you can take action to prevent it all together? Call or email us today to get a preventative, if you do not have the Premium Monthly Lawn App package with us. We can apply an 8-12 week preventative application for you and save your yard from destruction.

Watering and Drought Stress

Even though we have been receiving a lot of natural rainfall, we still recommend watering daily, especially during these heat advisories and high temperatures.

Please still watch out for drought stress. If you see signs of drought stress, you can add an additional run time to your current schedule or hand water that area until it recovers.

Again, we want to remind you that if you have a smart controller, we recommend manually adjusting the settings vs automatically since it goes off of general weather conditions in the area and not specifically your property.
