

The Old Town Hall

ABOVE GLOSSOP MARKET HALL - GLOSSOP, DERBYSHIRE

The background image is a photograph of The Old Town Hall, a large, historic stone building with a prominent clock tower featuring a cross on top. The building has multiple stories with arched windows and a series of arches at the ground level. A few people are visible walking on the sidewalk in front of the building. The overall tone is warm and slightly sepia.

Welcome to The Old Town Hall

Perched above the vibrant Glossop Market Hall, The Old Town Hall is a unique wedding and events venue where historic character meets contemporary celebration.

Lovingly restored and reimagined, this beautiful space offers a stunning blank canvas for couples seeking a venue that feels both timeless and entirely their own.

With soaring ceilings, beautiful natural light and views across Market Square, The Old Town Hall provides the perfect backdrop for unforgettable moments, from intimate ceremonies to lively evening celebrations.

Whether you're planning a wedding, engagement party, milestone celebration or corporate event, our flexible venue allows you to create a day that reflects your personality and vision.

The Old Town Hall has been part of Glossop's story for nearly two centuries. Standing proudly above the bustling Market Hall, this remarkable building has witnessed generations of local life, celebrations and community gatherings.

Today, following a careful restoration, it begins an exciting new chapter as one of Derbyshire's most distinctive event venues. Original architectural features, magnificent windows and impressive ceiling heights have been preserved, creating a venue filled with character whilst offering all the flexibility required for modern celebrations.

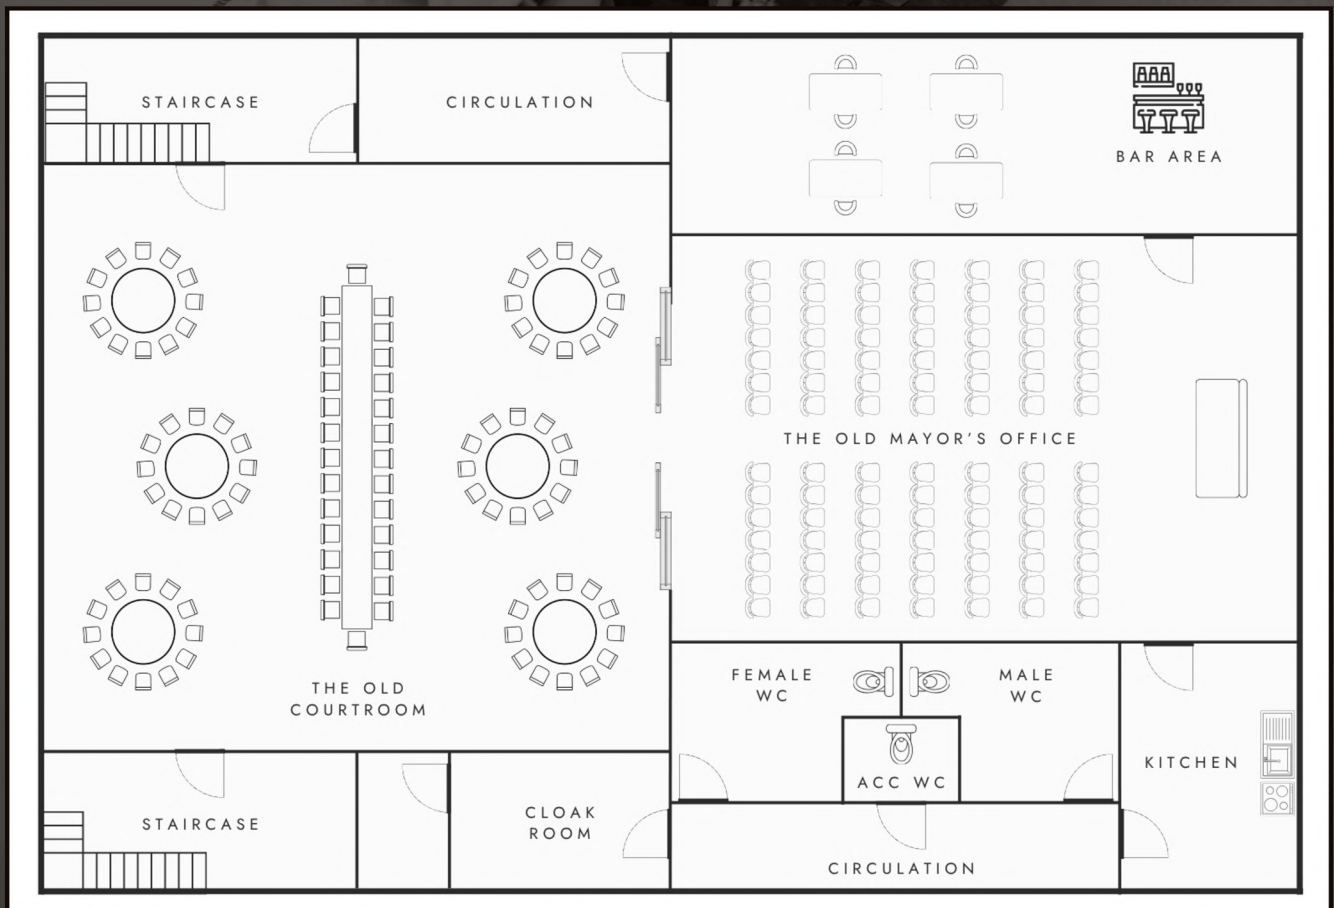

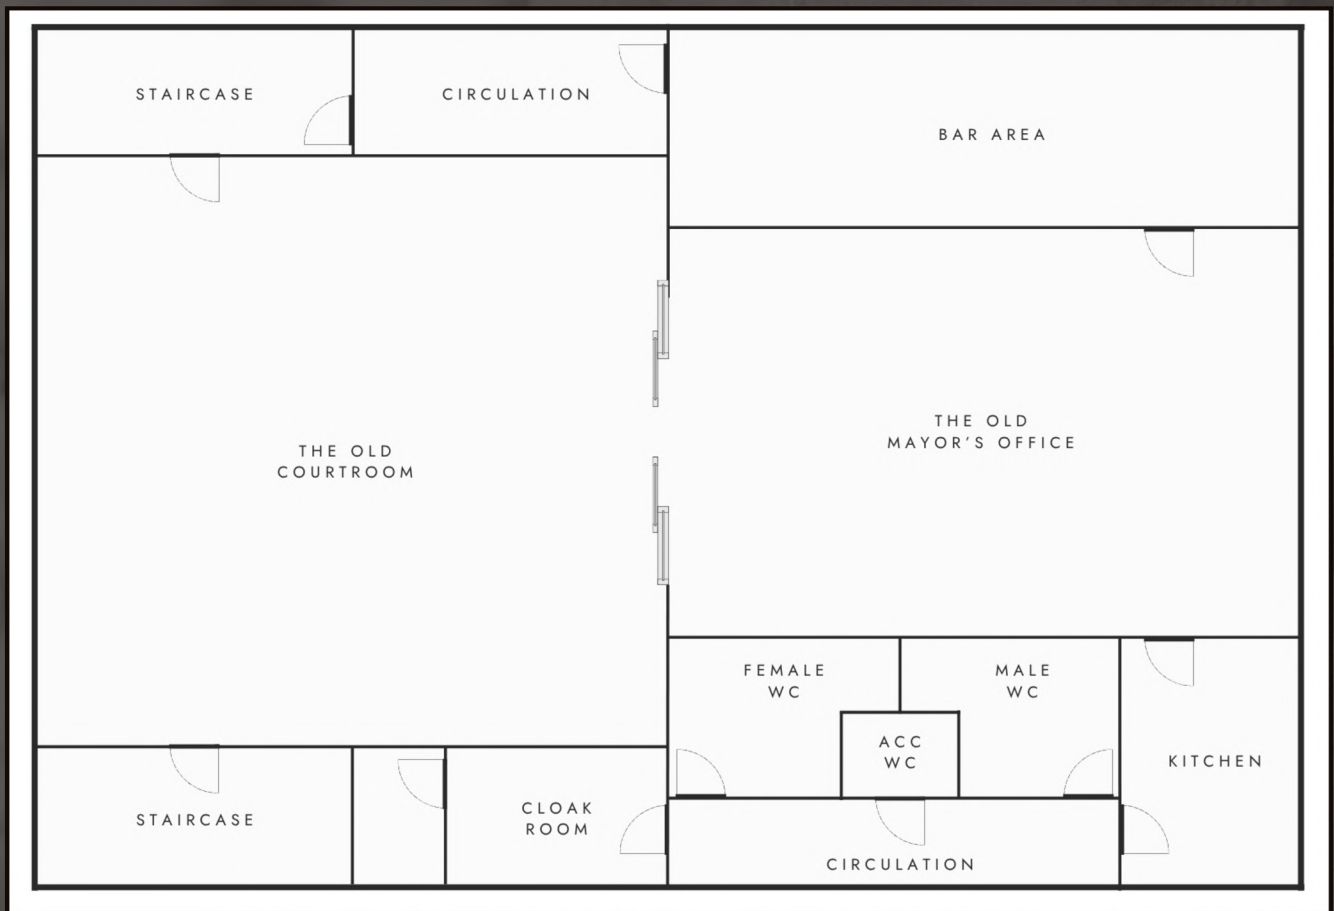

"When you celebrate at The Old Town Hall, you're not simply booking a venue. You're becoming part of a story that has been woven into the fabric of Glossop for generations."
