Acurum Group Strengthens Its Services in Moisture Management – Acquires Humidus

Press release

Acurum Group has acquired Humidus, thereby strengthening the group's moisture management services in the Stockholm area. Humidus has approximately 30 employees and an annual turnover of around SEK 68 million.

Humidus was founded in Stockholm in 2003 and specializes in managing moisture damage, including dehumidification, moisture measurement, leak detection, and floor lifting. The company also offers emergency services around the clock, inspections, and damage investigations, working closely with property owners, managers, and insurance companies.

"We are very excited that Humidus is now becoming part of Acurum Group. With their expertise and strong position, we are further enhancing our offering in the Stockholm area," says Peter Feledy, CEO of Acurum Group.

Acurum Group consists of several companies that provide services in air quality, moisture management, and pipe maintenance, and has been operating since 2024. The group currently includes over 15 companies in Sweden and Norway, with a total of more than 500 employees and an annual turnover of approximately SEK 800 million. Each company operates under its own brand but is also given the opportunity to develop through collaboration, joint initiatives, and shared expertise within the group.

"Becoming part of Acurum gives us more opportunities for long-term growth, while still maintaining our strong focus on employees, customers, and the expertise we have built up over the years," says Liselott Sundin, CEO of Humidus.
