Libertas

Announcement: Sebastian Moore appointed Chief Executive Officer

On behalf of LVP and your Libertas Board, and following Chris' announcement last week, we are pleased to announce the appointment of Sebastian Moore as CEO of Libertas Solutions, commencing 2 July 2026.

Sebastian joins the business at an exciting stage of growth and transformation for both our company and the broader SAP market. With deep experience across enterprise technology, consulting, and managed services, Sebastian will lead the next phase of our strategy focused on SAP advisory, SAP S/4HANA transformation, and HR & Payroll operate services. Sebastian is currently a lead partner in the SAP Technology Consulting team at EY. Prior to that he was a founder of the Plaut IT SAP consulting business which grew to a headcount of c. 130 before being acquired by EY in 2019.

As organisations across Australia and the Asia-Pacific region accelerate their move to SAP S/4HANA and modern workforce platforms, our focus remains on helping clients simplify complexity, modernise operations, and achieve measurable business outcomes. Under Sebastian's leadership, the company will continue investing in high-value advisory capabilities, delivery excellence in the autonomous SAP enterprise and scalable operate services that support long-term client success.

I would also like to sincerely thank Chris Fydler for his contributions to the Tambla/Libertas business both before and after our investment. Chris has been instrumental in building the strong foundations that Libertas Solutions required to drive its next phase of growth and the integration of Tambla, Silfen and Libertas to set the foundation for further growth. We are deeply grateful for his leadership, commitment and lasting impact on the business. I also want to acknowledge and express gratitude for the service and commitment of Nathan Thomas who worked alongside Chris as COO.

Please join me in welcoming Seb to the business as we begin this new chapter in July.

Best regards,

Brad Lancken
