LECH ZÜRS AM ARLBERG, VORARLBERG

Lech Zürs am Arlberg – The Art of Alpine Living

Come for the skiing. Stay for the taste. At the heart of Ski Arlberg, Austria's largest interconnected ski area, 300 kilometres of slopes unfold across dramatic high-Alpine terrain. Perfect pistes, open bowls and deep-snow runs make Lech Zürs one of Europe's great skiing destinations. Yet winter here is about more than skiing: quiet forest trails, panoramic spas, crisp air and the increasingly rare luxury of time.

The hotels have their own kind of Alpine polish: warm timber, cashmere, firelight and an elegance that never feels overdone. Then there is the food. With five MICHELIN Stars across three restaurants and 60 Gault&Millau toques, Lech Zürs has become one of the Alps' most compelling gourmet destinations. Exceptional wine cellars and the kind of long lunches that make a sun terrace difficult to leave complete the picture.

Art, too, is part of the landscape. At Skyspace-Lech, American artist James Turrell turns the Alpine sky into an ever-changing composition of light and colour, best experienced as day slips into dusk.

Perhaps that is Lech Zürs' greatest luxury: the freedom to choose. Ski until lunch. Walk through fresh snow. Watch the light change.

Here, winter moves at your pace.
