1. Aims

Our SEND policy and information report aims to:

- Set out how our school will support and make provision for pupils with Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND)
- Explain the roles and responsibilities of everyone involved in providing for pupils with SEND

This document is intended to provide parents, carers and families with information on how we support pupils identified with a Special Educational Need and/or Disability.

This should be read in conjunction with the Admissions policy, Accessibility Plan and Annual SEND Report. Together they include details of:

- The school's admission arrangements for pupils with SEND
- The steps school have taken to prevent pupils with SEND from being treated less favorably than other pupils
- The facilities provided to assist access to the school by pupils with SEND.

(Children and Families Act 2014, Part 3)

Documents can all be accessed on the school website under the policies tab or from the school office.

Curriculum Intent for Pupils with SEND

At St Alban's, we want to prepare our children not only for their next steps in their school journey, but also for life in the diverse world in which they live. We are committed to empowering every child in our school to be responsible and respectful citizens, who are confident, articulate and knowledgeable.

Underpinned by our Catholic and British values, we have a carefully structured, ambitious and knowledge-based curriculum for all children which is continually improving. It is clearly sequenced, progressive and has clearly defined end points. The substantive knowledge (facts/key ideas) we want the children to know is clearly identified within each subject area. The disciplinary knowledge (methods of working/action taken) enables children to make links between new learning and what they already know so they know more, remember more and can do more, over time.

Subject leaders have worked collaboratively to design short units of work for each year group which allow children to understand how their subject-specific knowledge is connected to other areas of the curriculum. In addition, coverage ensures that they are able to make effective use of transferable skills within their experiences both in and out of the classroom. Activities are engaging and meaningful, and all staff model and encourage a love of learning in safe, supportive and inclusive environments.

To help children retain what they have learned, regular repetition of information and opportunities for children to manipulate, deepen and refine their knowledge in all subjects are planned, with a focus on the correct use of vocabulary in a range of contexts.

Opportunities for children's personal development are also woven through the curriculum. These are enriched by extra-curricular clubs, activities, visits and visitors.

All staff have high expectations and ensure that every child is offered the fundamental right that they have to a good education. This enables each individual including those with SEND to thrive and achieve success, thereby enjoying and excelling in the presence of God.

Leaders provide training for all staff to enable them to effectively meet the needs of all pupils. Teaching support staff receive training on how to support pupils within the classroom and how to deliver targeted intervention programmes e.g. Read Write Inc. phonics tutoring, Talk Boost. We seek support and advice from a range of outside agencies when needed.

Recent training has included: Zones of regulation, Speech and language training and Read, Write Ince. Staff have worked with professionals from Newcastle local authority and the Bishop Bewick Catholic Education Trust.

The support staff team have accessed training regarding how to recognise mental health issues and know how to support pupils within school. We are currently working with the SEMH team who offer support for schools.

Specialist support can be accessed from Newcastle Local Authority using the SEND ASAP process for advice.

We have access to a highly experienced Educational Psychologist who works for the Bishop Bewick Catholic Education Trust. She supports leaders, provides training for the staff team, works with pupils and families / carers to provide advice and support.

School can also access specialist support within Bishop Bewick Catholic Education Trust.

5.2 Identifying pupils with SEND and assessing their needs

School will assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment on entry, which will build on previous settings and Key Stages, where appropriate. Class teachers will make regular assessments of progress for all pupils and identify those whose progress:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline
- Fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress
- Fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers
- Widens the attainment gap

This may include progress in areas other than attainment, for example, social needs.

Slow progress and low attainment will not automatically mean a pupil is recorded as having SEND.

When deciding whether special educational provision is required, we will start with the desired outcomes, including the expected progress and attainment, and the views and the wishes of the pupil and their parents. We will use this to determine the support that is needed and whether we can provide it by adapting our core offer, or whether something different or additional is needed.

5.3 Consulting and involving pupils and parents

We will have an early discussion with parents (and pupils if appropriate) when identifying whether a child needs special educational provision. Some pupils are monitored closely whilst advice from professionals is sought, and this information is shared with parents in discussions. These conversations will make sure that:

- Everyone develops a good understanding of the pupil's areas of strength and difficulty
- We take into account the parents' concerns
- Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child
- Everyone is clear on what the next steps are

Notes of these early discussions will be added to the pupil's record.

We will formally notify parents when it is decided that a pupil will receive SEND support. Parents have to sign a consent form for their child to be added to the SEND register.

Parents/carers are always informed when their child is placed on the SEND register and the graduated response, outlined in the Code of Practice, is explained to them. Parents/Carers are informed about Newcastle Special Educational Needs and Disabilities Information, Advice and Support Service (SENDIASS). This service provides information, advice and support at any stage of a child or young person's education and provides an Independent Supporter for families in the process of getting an Education Health and Care Plan. Parents/Carers are fully involved in the review process. Interpreters are arranged for parents who require translation during meetings. Written information is in accessible formats and sufficient notice is given for meetings to enable parents/carers time to prepare. Early Help (formally known as Common Assessment Framework-CAF) is used to coordinate support for children and their families who have a range of needs.

Children are involved in SEND review meetings, when appropriate, and they have the opportunity to share their views about their education with the SENDCO and school leaders through pupil voice. This is routinely carried out as part of the schools monitoring and evaluations schedule.

5.4 Assessing and reviewing pupils' progress towards outcomes

We will follow the graduated approach and the four-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review.

The class or subject teacher will work with the SENDCO to carry out a clear analysis of the pupil's needs. This will draw on:

- The teacher's assessment and experience of the pupil
- Their previous progress and attainment or behaviour
- Other teachers' assessments, where relevant
- The individual's development in comparison to their peers and national data
- The views and experience of parents
- The pupil's own views
- Advice from external support services, if relevant

The assessment will be reviewed regularly.

All teachers and support staff who work with the pupil will be made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided, and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required. We will regularly review the effectiveness of the support and interventions, and their impact on the pupil's progress.

SEN support – four-part cycle

The identification of SEND is built into the overall approach to monitoring the progress and development of all pupils in school. Termly, pupil progress meetings support the early identification of pupils who may have SEND. Where concerns are identified, an initial discussion meeting will be arranged with the SENDCo.

Assess

The class teacher, working with the SENDCo, will carry out a clear analysis of a pupil's needs. This assessment will be reviewed regularly. Where appropriate, professionals will help to inform the assessment. Parents will be asked to contribute to the assessment.

Plan

Parents will be formally notified, through meetings with the class teacher and SENDCo of any planned interventions or support. Adjustments, interventions, support and a review date will be agreed with staff, parents and the pupil.

Do

The class teacher will remain responsible for working with the pupil on a daily basis and retain responsibility for their progress and outcomes. The class teacher and SENDCo will plan and assess the impact of support and interventions with any teaching assistants or specialist staff involved.

Review

The effectiveness of the support and interventions and their impact on the pupil's progress will be reviewed on the agreed date. Reviews will be held with parents at least three times per year (this may be as part of parent's evening appointments). The class teacher, working with the SENDCo, will revise the support in light of the pupil's progress. If a pupil does not make expected progress over a sustained period of time school will seek specialist expertise. This will inform future provision. School liaises with the following services - Educational Psychology, Specialist support from the Local Authority through the SEND ASAP referral team, School Health, CYPS, when appropriate, Social Services and Looked After Children Team.

5.5 Supporting pupils moving between phases and preparing for adulthood

We offer support to all pupils and parents during all periods of transition. Staff liaise closely with other schools at transition times to ensure that a pupil's SEND information is clearly communicated to ensure an effective transition. We invite the SENDCo from future High Schools to attend transition reviews and ensure all documentation is transferred within 5 days for pupils, in line with our safeguarding policy.

5.6 Teaching and Learning for Pupils with SEND

All pupils have the right to access our ambitious curriculum. Quality first teaching is the main teaching and learning strategy used to teach pupils identified with SEND within our school. Targeted intervention outside the classroom is only used to address gaps in learning and support with specific needs.

This is achieved by:

- Forming positive relationships, active engagement and well-being for all pupils.
- Zones of regulation used in all classrooms.
- Ensuring all pupils with SEND access quality first teaching. We use the Education Endowment Foundation '5-a-day approach' to quality first teaching.

- Pupils, parents or carers and key staff members all contribute when creating, implementing and reviewing individual learning plans. They follow the graduated approach 'assess, plan, do and review'.
- Progress towards outcomes is reviewed termly with the SENDCo, parents, professionals, teaching staff and the pupil if appropriate. Parents are invited into school in person or via a digital platform for a virtual meeting.
- Pupils are assessed regularly within lessons to check their understanding and to give specific feedback.
- Teaching and Learning policy supports pupils with SEND by flexible groupings, cognitive and metacognitive strategies, explicit instruction, scaffolding and technology to support them access the teaching sequence. This is our '5-a-day approach' to quality first teaching.
- For pupils that require extra support, we use specific targeted intervention as recommended by the Education Endowment Foundation to provide bespoke provision to support SEND pupils.
- We ensure that our school activities, before and after school provision and trips are accessible to all our SEND pupils.

5.7 Adaptations to the curriculum and learning environment

Implementation for pupils with SEND

Leaders use research to plan professional development to ensure all teaching staff know how to successfully implement our bespoke curriculum and support the pupils in their class with additional needs. Subjects are taught discretely with regular opportunities to revisit learning to ensure that children can acquire new knowledge and skills.

Evidence-based practice has informed how we implement our curriculum. Following advice from the Education Endowment Foundation, teachers are currently developing the use of these principles within their teaching and we believe that together we can inspire growth and change in all our pupils, whatever their barriers to learning. Teachers are self-reflective throughout and planning demonstrates prior learning, a theory-based approach to delivering new learning, such as modelling, guided practice, providing scaffolds, targeted questioning, and planned knowledge for the future.

Lessons are skillfully planned using quality resources and following professional advice for SEND pupils to ensure that they effectively acquire, rehearse and connect existing knowledge to new learning. Previous learning is revisited and new knowledge and skills are explicitly taught through guided practice so that children rapidly acquire new learning.

Starting each lesson with a 'Flash back 5', we recap prior learning and give learning a context and a focus. Experiences are planned to enhance learning such as a field study, a visitor, workshops, artefact boxes, role play, to inspire and consolidate children's understanding. Such immersive experiences provide all children with cultural capital and an understanding of their community and the wider world. Teachers are motivated and their passion and knowledge of their pupils, through continuous formative assessment, drives enthusiasm. They focus feedback on the following questions 'Where am I going?', 'How am I going to get there?' and 'Where do I go next?'. This leads them on an interconnected narrative of what has gone before and what is yet to come.

Children regularly revisit learning to reflect and consolidate their learning through discussions, low stake quizzes 'show me' and answering planned questions to express what they have learnt and achieved. By doing so, teachers can effectively address gaps in learning and plan for the next steps in their learning. We value communication with all our stakeholders and share all relevant information, regularly sharing positive messages with families to ensure our children feel valued.

We make the following adaptations to ensure all pupils' needs are met:

- The Education Endowment ‘5-a-day’ approach to teaching and learning.

- Adapting our resources and staffing e.g. support staff allocated where the need is within school
- Scaffolding – through resources and staffing
- Using recommended aids, such as laptops, coloured overlays, visual timetables, larger font, etc.
- Adapting teaching, for example, giving longer processing times, pre-teaching of key vocabulary, reading instructions aloud, etc.

Impact for Pupils with SEND

We are extremely proud of our children. Our children can express the kind of people they aspire to be, the kind of world they aspire to create, and the kind of education we aspire to provide.

By talking with our children, it is clear the impact our curriculum has on their lives and on preparing them for their future. Curriculum plans are continually reviewed and amendments made based upon the voice of our children and their needs. It celebrates their individuality, moulding their whole being. From their different starting points, we deliver an ambitious curriculum for every pupil and their books and confidence in discussing their own learning illustrates their strong progress.

The teaching of the curriculum ensures the children's learning is embedded in their long-term memory, thus securing their understanding of the knowledge and skills needed to enable them to make progress and be prepared for their next stage of education. We aim for our children to leave here resilient, respectful, skillful, ambitious and with a thirst for life and all it has to offer. The children know they are listened to. Everything we do here at St. Alban's is for the children, with Jesus at the centre.

5.8 Additional support for learning

We have 10 teaching assistants who are trained to deliver interventions such as RWI tutoring and Talk Boost.

Teaching assistants will support pupils on a 1:1 basis if this enables the pupil to access the curriculum as stated in their current learning plan.

Teaching assistants will support pupils in small groups when directed by the class teacher.

We work with the following agencies to provide support for pupils with SEND:

- Education Psychology
- NHS Speech and Language
- NHS Occupational Therapy

We use specialist staff where possible to deliver targeted interventions.

Behaviour Support for Pupils with SEND

Children with SEND may require additional behaviour support which will be provided with individualised strategies depending on the child's needs. Children are supported with behaviour with their best interests in mind. Children with additional needs may be vulnerable and can be disproportionately impacted by things e.g. bullying without showing any outward signs due to communication difficulties. All staff are vigilant for this. For further information relating to bullying please see our behaviour and anti-bullying policies. If you have any concerns, please do not hesitate to contact your child's teacher.

Improving the delivery of written information to disabled pupils

This will include planning to make written information that is normally provided by the school to its pupils available to disabled pupils. Examples might include handouts, timetables, textbooks and information about school events. The information should take account of pupils' disabilities and pupils' and parents preferred formats and be made available within a reasonable time frame.

- The school will work with the LA and external agencies to ensure they are following the advice of professionals e.g. coloured exercise books for pupils with dyslexia, large print for worksheets, use of blue pen on whiteboards rather than black.
- St Alban's staff will make themselves aware of how to find out about local services that may be of use to a disabled child they are teaching.
