

DISCOVERY GUIDE

SHEPHERDS PANTRY

The Shepherds Farm

A FIRST LOOK

Enjoy it here.
Take a little home.

Tucked inside Tuscan Barn, Shepherds Pantry brings the ease of a village shop to life at the Farm. It is there for a spontaneous aperitif, an easy supper or something you would love to enjoy again at home. A compact, changing selection brings together good food, bottles and useful, beautiful things chosen with the same care as the houses.

For the table, whenever the moment comes

A bottle of wine or Champagne, an interesting alcohol-free drink, olives, crackers or something savoury to share. The selection may include good tinned fish, pickles and nuts, alongside pasta, sauces, olive oils, herbs and useful cupboard provisions. Enough to make a simple meal or turn a quiet afternoon into an occasion.

For slow mornings and small pleasures

Coffee, teas and infusions, preserves, honey, granola, biscuits and chocolate offer things to discover over breakfast or later in the day. The selection combines local makers with finds from further afield. We favour products with a story, a clear origin and a place in the everyday pleasures of the house.

Something of the house to take with you

Alongside food and drink, discover a small selection of table linen, ceramics, candles, selected scents, books and pieces for the home. Some are made for the Farm; others are chosen for the way they feel and work in a house. If a cup, a fabric or another detail catches your eye during your stay, ask us whether it is available to buy or order.

Before you arrive, or while you are here

After booking, we share the current Pantry selection and pre-order options. Tell us what you would like waiting: preferred bottles, breakfast provisions or a few things for your first evening. Fresh items such as bread, dairy and cheeses are arranged in advance, subject to availability. Prepared dishes are ordered from the seasonal menu introduced in At the Table. During your stay, browse the Pantry for additions as the day unfolds. Prices are displayed, and we explain how to record purchases when you arrive. For a gift or something to take home, we can help put together a selection around what you have enjoyed. If a favourite product or particular bottle is missing, ask; we will look into sourcing it.

This public guide introduces the selection rather than listing live stock. Products vary with the season and availability; some pieces are available to order. Pantry purchases and pre-orders are charged separately unless expressly included in your confirmed stay. They are additional to the welcome provisions already prepared for you. Share dietary requirements before ordering; we confirm availability and prices before arranging requests.
